HENEY AND JOHNSON MAKE BITTER ATTACK ON BOSSES

San Francisco Attorney and California Governor Assail Committee---More Delegates for Taft.

Chicago, June 12.—Eight delegates, six at large from Arizona and two from the Fourth California district, were placed in the Taft column by the republican national committee today.

The vote on the Californin delegates followed a running fire opened on the committee by Francis J. Heney, and a stinging statement from Governor Hiram W. Johnson in the interest of Roosevelt.

Assails Senator Crane.

Mr. Heney, seated in the national committee with a proxy, assailed members of the committee, emphasizing particularly Senator Murray Crane, of Massachusetts, whom he addressed as a man who had "no respectability to lose."

While Chairman Rosewater was admonishing the San Franciscan to address the committee properly, Governor Johnson arrived at the Coliseum. He declined to appear before the committee and issued a written statement which Mr. Heney later read to the committee.

Johnson Blisters 'Em.

In this statement Governor Johnson declared he declined to submit "to a trial of the title of property by the thief who steals it."

After the committee had voted the Roosevelt faction down, James A. Tawney declared that any action of the committee which would recognize the states instead of the district would establish a precedent which would "overthrow republican principles," and Senator Borah, in a vigorous speech, declared the committee was making it impossible for a republican to preside over the nation during the next four years.

Alaskan Attacks Heney.

During the roll call a bitter attack on Mr. Heney was made by Committeeman Shackelford, of Alaska, who voted for the Taft delegates. He declared that Alaska had been "robbed" by the "Noyes machine of Minnesota and that Francis J. Heney was its chief counsel."

"This gentleman," Mr. Shackelford continued, "came into this convention on a proxy and his first yell was about graft rule in San Francisco. I came here as a referee and impartial judge. I have seen the attempt of certain members to drive this committee to do what they want it to do. I, for one, refuse to be intimidated or driven from doing what I think is right."

Wanted an Early Start.

To dispose of the Arizona and California cases set for today and Louisiana next on the list of states, the republican committee set its meeting for 9 o'clock this morning with the prospect of a night session.

The California case, in view of the statements made Monday by former Senator Dick, the Taft contest attorney, promised to bring the title to the whole state delegation into question owing to an alleged conflict between the California state primary law and the official call of the national committee issued last December at the meeting held in Washington.

The national committee's call specified that the voters of each congressional district should have the privilege of choosing two delegates to represent them in the republican national convention.

Under the California primary law also the first returns showed that the Taft delegates in the Fourth congressional district were elected over the Roosevelt delegates. The secretary of state acted under the state primary law and gave all delegates to Col. Roosevelt because of his large majority in the state.

Put a Tangle in It.

Later, however, the secretary of state determined that the boundaries between the Fourth and Fifth districts were not clearly enough defined to make possible an accurate count of the Taft or Roosevelt votes of the Fourth district. This change complicated the case as it was presented to the committee today.

In the Louisiana cases, which the committee expects to reach late today, the regularity of the state organization is directly at issue. Three delegates appear from the state at large, one instructed for Roosevelt and headed by National Committeeman Pearl Wight, and two for Taft, only one of which the national committee recognizes as "regular."

Sought to Patch Up Peace.

In an attempt to heal the Louisiana split after the last republican national convention of 1908 the committee directed a sub-committee to go to the state and try to bring the warring factions together. Members of this committee, which consisted of E. C. Duncan, of North Carolina; Ralph Williams, of Oregon, and Secretary William Hayward, of New York, prepared to go into the Louisiana case in the committee today and testify to the compromise made in the state last February. It is claimed that the factions were brought together

SENATOR FLEMING IS RENOMINATED

Allen-Adams Delegates in Joint Senatorial Convention.

VOTE IS UNANIMOUS

Democrats of Allen and Adams counties, in joint senatorial convention in the court house assembly room in this city this afternoon, gave Hon. Stephen B. Fleming unanimous renomination for joint senator from Allen and Adams counties.

STEPHEN B. FLEMING,
Renominated for Joint Senator from Allen-Adams Counties.

Adams county was entitled to 17 votes and Allen to 65. J. W. Bosse, of Adams county, chairman of the democratic county central committee, presided as chairman of the convention. It was conceded in advance that no rival candidate would appear against Mr. Fleming.

The convention was brief and no other business was transacted. Following the roll call Chairman Bosse announced the purpose of the meeting and Mr. Fleming's name was presented and the nomination was by acclamation.

Mr. Fleming expressed his thanks to the delegates for having again conferred such an honor on him and spoke briefly of incidents that took place during the last session of the legislature, and what he expects to see accomplished at the coming session.

Governor Stubbs Returns from a Conference With Roosevelt.

COMING IS UNCERTAIN

Chicago, Ill., June 12.—Governor Stubbs of Kansas returned to the Roosevelt headquarters today from a conference with Col. Roosevelt and again declared his belief that the republican convention would place Theodore Roosevelt at the head of the ticket.

"I cannot believe," said Gov. Stubbs, "that 540 delegates can be found who will disgrace themselves by refusing to give him the nomination."

While he was talking, a twenty-foot oil painting depicting Co. Roosevelt in rough rider costume with his foot on a lion's head was being hung in the Roosevelt committee rooms. The Kansas governor added to the uncertainty over the coming of Col. Roosevelt by saying, "He has no plans but he may come."

John McVicker and C. A. Rawson of Des Moines, and J. L. Stevens of Boone, Iowa, were active at the Cummins headquarters where it was announced that Senator Cummins would not come to the convention unless Col. Roosevelt did.

D. B. Atherton of Washington, secretary of the national republican league, arrived and began preparations for the biennial convention of the league next Tuesday in the hotel where the Taft and Roosevelt headquarters are located.

Both Oppose Compromise.

Leaders in both Roosevelt and Taft camps vigorously denied the "compromise candidate" rumors which have been circulating in the hotel lobbies.

Positive information as to whether Col. Roosevelt would come to Chicago to look after his own interests before the work of deciding the contested delegatons is finished by the republican national committeee was sought today both by his own workers and those favoring President Taft. ROOSEVELT ELECTORS WILL REVOLT IF TAFT IS NAMED

Flinn Springs New Scheme to Sacrifice Presidential Nominee But Save Big Republican States.

Chicago, June 12.—Recourse to the Roosevelt men who have been selected as presidential electors in different states is the announced plan of Wm. Flinn of Pennsylvania, should the convention nominate President Taft.

The Roosevelt leader made this statement today in a vigorous attack on the national committee, in which he declared that such a movement while it might defeat the republican nominee for president, would save the party in the big republican states.

His position was indorsed by Gov. W. E. Glasscock, of West Va., who declared that all the West Virginia electors are for Roosevelt and would vote for him in the electoral college regardless of the convention.

Senator Jos. M. Dixon listened to Mr. Flinn and Gov. Glasscock and said:

"I don't think there will be any need for such action. You hear what they say. In my opinion Col. Roosevelt surely will be nominated. The Taft forces will not dare to steal the nomination."

Mr. Flinn and Gov. Glasscock declared that the state conventions in Pennsylvania and West Virginia had not been adjourned and would be reconvened if necessary and the electors given positive instructions to vote for Col. Roosevelt is circumstances warranted.

"We are not going to allow the national committee to destroy the republican party in Pennsylvania," said Mr. Flinn. "We don't intend to stand idly by and lose ten or fifteen congressmen and the legislature. We propose to protect ourselves at home. Thirty of the 38 presidential electors are for Roosevelt and if they are elected and the nomination is stolen and given to President Taft those thirty will vote in the electoral college for Col. Roosevelt.

"We don't propose to allow delegates from the southern states and the insular possessions to dictate a presidential nomination to the great republican states. Time has come when political rebellion is necessary for self-protection of the republican states. Under this plan no bolt will be necessary. It would result, perhaps, in losing a republican president, but would win locally. No other civilized country would tolerate such practices as are being had in the national committee.

"I have talked with Roosevelt men in Pennsylvania and they agree with me that it is necessary, if Taft is nominated, to carry the fight to the electoral college."

"In our state the entire list of presidential electors is for Col. Roosevelt and will vote for him," said Governor Glasscock. "There is no law to prevent it. The people vote for the electors and not for the president. If the nomination is stolen for President Taft you can say that West Virginia's electoral vote will be for Theodore Roosevelt. I agreed with Mr. Flinn and we will follow the same course."

BARES PLOT TO SLAY TERAUCHI

Big Conspiracy Against Governor General of Korea.

MEMBERS IN AMERICA

Seul, Korea, June 12.—The outlines of the conspiracy against Lieut. Gen. Count Terauchi, governor general of Korea, are given in an official statement issued today by the procurator-general.

He asserts that Baron Yunchiho, the leader of the Korean secret organization since 1905, had the intention of securing the independence of Korea and enlisting the sympathies of the foreign powers against Japan. It was his purpose to await a time when Japan was involved in war to take up arms.

Following the annexation of Korea by Japan in 1910, Baron Yunchiho determined upon the assassination of Count Terauchi and a number of specially selected conspirators followed the governor general's route on his northern inspection tour in November, 1910. Five railroad stations are named by the procurator-general as places selected by the conspirators to carry out the assassination. Owing to the vigilance of the police, however, the plans of the would-be assassins failed.

The procurator-general continues that meetings were held by the conspirators and inflammatory speeches were made before the teachers and the pupils of the public schools.

The organization to which the conspirators belong includes a large membership in America and Russia. The total number of those arrested in connection with the conspiracy is 122, of whom 19 are students, 20 teachers and pastors and the remainder merchants, farmers, etc.

According to the procurator-general, the assassinations of Durham White Stevens, who was killed in San Francisco in 1908, when he held the appointment of foreign adviser to the Korean government, and Prince Ito, the former governor general of Korea, who was killed in 1909, and the attempt on the premier's life are all traceable to the same organization. Baron Yunchiho was formerly minister of education and is one of the best known English speaking Koreans. Yank-Ki-Tak, a well known Korean newspaper man, is also named in connection with the conspiracy. He is a well known anti-Japanese agitator.

GIVES PROPOSAL MADE BY DARROW

Browne on Stand Recounts Remarks of Accused Attorney.

TRAP FOR FRANKLIN

Los Angeles, Cal., June 12.—"Browne, this is terrible. You do the best you can for us and I'll take care of you."

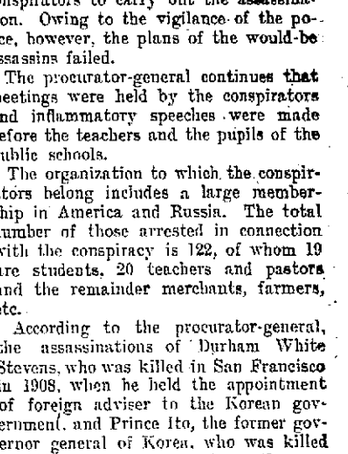
This, testified Samuel L. Browne, of the district attorney's office, was what Clarence S. Darrow said to him shortly after the arrest of Bert H. Franklin for the bribery of George N. Lockwood, the charge upon which Darrow is on trial.

Browne told in detail of the trap arranged by the district attorney and himself to catch Franklin, with the assistance of Lockwood. Twice Browne and his detectives visited Lockwood's home, expecting to entrap Franklin in the act of passing bribe money to the prospective juror, said the witness. On the last visit, Browne testified, he concealed two of his men in the haymow of the barn and another one on top of a water tank. Browne and another man hid on the porch.

Each of the detectives, said Browne, was enabled to hear parts of the conversation between Franklin and Lockwood as the latter led the McNamara detective about the yard in the dark. The witness testified he and Lockwood had agreed that the latter light a match if Franklin passed the money to him.

Attorney Appel, of the defense, took occasion to direct a bitter denunciation at the district attorney during the examination. He declared Fredericks was trying to justify a palpable "frame up" and induce the commission of a crime in order to further his own interests.

A Box of Bonbons



Made a bee-line for the interurban station.

ERMAN D. CAMPBELL, of the purchasing department of Bowser's, looks forward to each week-end with exceptional pleasure because of a trolley trip which he is accustomed to take to Wabash on Saturday nights. However, although the Bowser plant is closed on Saturday afternoons, Erman doesn't spend his half-day in idleness. Others may lie themselves to the places of amusement, to the parks, to the tennis courts, to the golf links or elsewhere, but he hies himself to the Walk-Over shoe shop, where he assists as a salesman during the afternoon and evening.

The other Saturday, on coming into the store at noon, he carried the usual box of choice bonbons and chocolates, without which he never leaves on his weekly Wabash trips. That we take it, is a sufficient comment on the reason of his interest and regularity. He doesn't go down there to view the scenery, neither do his folks live there. This time the box was carefully deposited in the office of the store to remain during the busy hours between then and the time of departure. At the close of the day the young man grabbed the box and made a bee-line for the interurban station.

Of course, no one in Fort Wayne knows just what happened after he reached Wabash, but it is easy to picture something like this: When the person for whom the box of choice bonbons and chocolates had been procured, broke the dainty seals thereon and untied the delicate ribbonettes which held on the cover, which wouldn't have come off anyway, that person was more than astonished, if not gratified, to find the box filled with lumps of hard coal suitable for furnace use.

Well, wouldn't you be mad to have anything like that happen to you? Young Mr. Campbell isn't accusing anyone, but there is a knowing expression on his face every time he looks into the face of any of those other fellows at the Walk-Over.

Hereafter he isn't going to leave his bonbon box around where it can be tampered with. When asked what was done with the coal, he replied, "We're saving it—it will come in handy next winter."

Chairman Mack and Secretary Woodson, after an inspection of the convention hall, will take up and conclude many minor details of the convention program, which the committee on arrangements will ratify when it meets here June 20 to choose the temporary officers of the convention. With the exception of the national committee officers no one will be permitted in the convention building until the opening session.

There has been some discussion here that a resolution may be offered at the convention abrogating the two-thirds rule in making nominations.

KERN MAY BE KEYNOTER.

Temporary Chairmanship of Convention Has Been Offered Him.

Washington, June 12.—It was learned today that Senator John W. Kern has received direct assurance that he can have the honorary position of temporary chairman and keynote orator of the democratic national convention if he will accept it. The assurance, it is learned, comes from Thomas Taggart, who is a member of the committee on arrangements for the convention.

Senator Kern left last night for his summer home at Hollis Va., and does not expect to return to Washington until the latter part of this week. Before starting he confided in friends on the Indiana delegation his belief that the chairmanship of the convention will be offered to him if he desires it, but he left the impression that he would not care to serve in that capacity.

The first public intimation that Senator Kern is being considered for chairman came today in an interview with National Chairman Mack and was a distinct surprise to democratic leaders in Washington. In his interview, given out in New York, Chairman Mack mentions Senator Kern as one of those whom the committee on arrangements will consider for chairman.

There has been talk in Washington of Senator Shively for that position, but Mack in his interview does not mention Shively. It has been nearly two weeks since Senator Kern was informed that the position can be secured for him if he will take it. Chairman Mack has called a meeting of the committee on arrangements to be held at Baltimore June 20 to select the temporary chairman.

workers yesterday in gaining one contested seat gave rise to a report that the former president would come, while many of his own workers claimed to have been assured that he would not be here. Other Roosevelt workers declared they were certain that he would be here by Friday night. On that night a mass meeting will be held by the Roosevelt followers and many maintained that the candidate would be the principal orator. At this meeting strong protests are promised against the action of the national committee in seating some of the Taft delegates in the contests.

After the Uninstructed.

Managers were busy on both sides among the uninstructed delegates today in an attempt to learn just where they will stand on the opening ballot in the convention. Both Roosevelt and Taft adherents put forth their best argument to these delegates in an effort to line them up with their respective candidates. There is a belief that many of the delegates of this class are willing to be convinced as to how they should vote and both sides are making determined efforts to win them.

Attention turned today also to the building of the platform among the president's friends. Wm. Barnes, jr., of New York, who arrived yesterday, said he would try to obtain favorable action in the resolutions committee on planks based on the Rochester platform. Mr. Barnes distributed copies of the Rochester platform among the delegates.

Amid loud applause Mr. Fleming's name was presented to the convention by J. W. Tyndall, of Adams county, former joint senator, who paid a glowing tribute to his successor, declaring that while he had decided views on certain subjects, he had always endeavored to do the right thing and to demonstrate the correctness of his contentions.

Committees Named.

Committees were appointed as follows:

Credentials—Daniel Falva and Edwin Ehrman, Allen county; F. B. Mills and E. X. Ehinger, of Adams county.

Resolutions—John Hoffman and G. V. Kell, Allen county; Dory Erwin and John Moran, Adams county.

Permanent organization — William Gerding and Hugh McFadden, of Allen county; John W. Tyndall and Charles Ernst, of Adams county.

Permanent Officers.

The permanent organization committee was the first to report and announced that Mr. Bosse had been selected as chairman, and John Wessel, of Fort Wayne, secretary.

During the time the committees were in session addresses were delivered by E. G. Hoffman and Maurice C. Niezer. Mr. Hoffman recounted the disruption in the ranks of the republican party, declared that the democratic party never had better opportunity to carry off all honors, commended Mr. Fleming and referred to Governor Marshall as the next president. Mr. Neizer urged the democrats to take advantage of the rates on the special train to the Baltimore convention.

Resolutions Adopted.

Resolutions were adopted congratulating the democratic party of Indiana on the efficiency of its state officials and of the pure government enacted by the administration. The people of the state were also congratulated on the economic and conservative action of Governor Marshall, whose support was urged.

Other resolutions were adopted approving of the acts of the last legislature and of the conduct of State Senator Fleming and the democrats were urged to lend their untiring support for Governor Marshall's presidential nomination and to Hon. S. M. Ralston's candidacy for governor.

HENEY AND JOHNSON MAKE BITTER ATTACK ON BOSSES.

then and signed an agreement under which Victor Loisel became state chairman. The Loisel faction sent the recognized Taft delegation while Pearl Wight, heading the Roosevelt delegation, claims equal regularity for his delegates.

Two Sets From Arizona.

There are two sets of delegates-at-large from Arizona, one for Taft and the other for Roosevelt, the latter the contesting faction. In the state convention after the Taft men had organized the Roosevelt followers held a conventon in the same hall and elected a delegation. The contestants deny the right of the Taft leaders to fix a temporary roll call.

Just before the committee met it was declared that the claim of the Roosevelt delegation from Louisiana, headed by Committeeman Pearl Wight, would be that the sub-committee of the republican national committee exceeded its authority when it went to Louisiana and consolidated the former warring factions. The Wight delegation was elected under one of the old regular committees. Mr. Wight was prepared to assert before the committee that the national committee's delegation which went to Louisiana in February went there for the purpose of getting early conventions and shutting out the possibility of a Roosevelt delegation.

Arizona is Taken Up.

The first contest of the day was that of Arizona's six delegates at large. For the Taft delegates at large appeared Samuel J. Elder, a Boston attorney and former class mate of President Taft; Robert E. Morrison, an attorney from Prescott, Ariz., and James T. Williams, of Arizona, one of the delegates at large.

At the Roosevelt table Ormsby McHarg was joined by George E. Record, of New Jersey, and Dwight B. Heard, of Phoenix, of the Roosevelt delegation.

Just after this case was called the regular program was interrupted by an unexpected protest against the split decision late yesterday in the Eleventh Kentucky district case.

Former Senator Dick, the Taft contest manager, asked for confirmation of the report that one Roosevelt and one Taft delegate had been seated.

Neither is Satisfied.

"How can we appeal from this decision?" asked Mr. Dick.

"I want to protest that the decision was irregular," interrupted Mr. McHarg, contest manager for Mr. Roosevelt. Both attorneys made it clear they would carry the Eleventh Kentucky case higher. Chairman Rosewater said the case could be taken to the national convention and its credentials committee.

Senator Dick said he "did not want the decision passed without notice of appeal," as the Taft forces thought they were entitled to both of the Eleventh district delegates.

Mr. McHarg asserted that the decision yesterday, dividing the vote, was "against precedents established four years ago. "I fail to see how, under a given set of circumstances, the committee could seat one and reject the other of the Roosevelt delegates," he declared.

Senator Penrose demanded that the Arizona case be taken up and the Kentucky discussion was stopped.

Taft Men as Contestants.

Chairman Rosewater said there was some doubt as to which delegation should be heard first, but as the Roosevelt delegates filed their credentials first, the Taft delegates would be considered the contestants.

Samuel J. Elder opened the arguments for the Taft forces. He said that as no primary law was in effect when the Arizona state committee called the state convention to be held June 3, doubt existed as to how the delegates should be selected. The state committee decided to leave the selection of delegates to the county committees.

"Only one contest was presented when the state committee met two days before the convention," said Mr. Elder. "It was well known that the committee was ready to hear all contests. At the convention at Tucson all the contestants received tickets. Chairman J. L. Hubbell stated that every one claiming to be a delegate could be heard, when some one protested against the reading of the roll call made up by the committee.

"The man who objected to the roll call was a Roosevelt man who was recognized as a delegate on the temporary roll. Then apparently by a pre-conceived plan, the Roosevelt men rushed for the platform and there was an immediate scene of disorder."

Elder declares the Roosevelt forces then left the regular convention which organizd "pacefully" with 68 of the 96 votes which had been recognized on the "temporary roll" previously prepared by the state executive committee.

Robert E. Morrison who was one of the Taft delegates declared that the state executive committee two days before the convention gave every one an opportunity to be heard and only one contest was presented.

Mr. Morrison declared that on June 3 the convention at Tucson was opened by State Chairman J. C. Hubbell, the temporary roll adopted and nominations called for when Former Governor Joseph H. Kibby, whose name was not on the temporary roll, arose and said, "We won't recoguize the adoption of this roll."

A Football Organization.

The Roosevelt men, Morrison declared, then rushed to the front and some of them mounted the platform. Morrison said he believed there was a "fully developed football organization" among the Roosevelt men who proceeded to run a convention on one side of the stage, while the Taft convention was going on at the other. For twenty minutes, he said, it was impossible to hear anything. The Roosevelt men then left the hall.

The part played by Former Governor Kibby was explained by George L. Record of Phoenix, who defended the Roosevelt delegation.

"We claim we had a clear majority of the legal delegates in that hall, he said. "When the convention met Gov. Kibby took the floor and protested on our behalf against the adoption of a temporary roll which we did not believe legal. From that time on there were two conventions and the question is which is the legal one."

He said the Roosevelt men had not presented their contests to the state executive committee because they knew they would have been thrown out.

"If you say a body of men calling themselves the state executive committee can determine upon the legality of contesting delegates," said Mr. Heard, "you are establishing a self-perpetuating oligarchy that can absolutely dominate political affairs."

"Picked Out" a Delegation.

In explaining the method of selecting delegates in Arizona counties Mr. Record said where primaries were not desired, delegates were chosen by the county committees. In Maricopa county the Roosevelt forces controlled the committee, 22 to 19, and ordered a primary after which the Taft minority met and "picked out" a delegation to the state convention. At the primary, he said, only eleven out of 950 votes were polled for Taft. Mr. Record declared that had "technicalities" been waived, and the results of the primary in Maricopa county been considered the Roosevelt men would have 54 of 93 delegates in the Arizona convention whose regularity could not be questioned.

A motion of Senator Borah to seat the Roosevelt delegates from Arizona was defeated and the Taft delegation was seated after refusal of roll call.

A roll call also was refused on the motion to seat the Taft delegates. Francis J. Heney, holding the proxy of Thorson, of South Dakota, exclaimed: "Why, even Abe Reuf would have granted that request."

Heney Called to Order.

"The gentleman is out of order," Chairman Rosewater declared.

"Let him make a speech," said one of the Taft members of the committee.

"I was merely informing the chair," said Heney.

"Thanks," said Rosewater.

The California contest, involving two delegates from the Fourth district, was called and Heney took a place at the table as attorney for the Roosevelt delegates. Frederick C. Bryan, of Washington, opened the case for the Taft delegates. He declared the Taft delegates had received the majority of the votes in the Fourth district. Under the California primary law the right of the district representation had been denied, he said, and the "unit rule" applied to the whole California delegation. Mr. Bryan stated that two Taft delegates, because they claimed to have about 260 majority in the Fourth district, declined to be bound by the Roosevelt vote in the state at large.

Kellogg Puts Query.

"The law provides, does it not," asked Mr. Kellogg, "that all delegates shall be bound by the majority in the state at large?"

"Yes, it does."

"What was the Roosevelt majority in the state?" asked Kellogg.

"Seventy-seven thousand," interrupted Mr. Heney.

Mr. Kellogg called attention the fact that the committee had already seated all the other California delegates.

"But in this one case," said Mr. Bryan, "the Taft delegates received a majority."

Gov. Hadley, Mo., holding proxy for Mr. Dieber of the District of Columbia, asked Mr. Bryan if he thought the call of the republican national convention was superior to the state law.

"When the state law interferes with the party law the national committees rule is supreme," said Mr. Bryan.

Senator Penrose asked Mr. Bryan if he knew anything about "the deliberate attempt in California to violate the committee's call by passing the primary law?"

Heney Again Objects.

Mr. Heney objected "to having California libeled in this way."

He was called to order by the chairman, who said he would have an opportunity to be heard later.

Mr. Bryan said he believed the committee ought not to submit to the attacks that had been made upon it by Gov. Johnson of California, "even though he were governor of a sovereign state."

Mr. Heney opened his defense of the Roosevelt delegates in a vigorous manner. "I appeal to you, Senator Murray Crane," he began when the chairman told him to address the committee in proper terms. "I am addressing a member of the committee, who I believe has no respectability to lose." Mr. Heney replied.

"Are you here to argue this case?" demanded Mr. Chubb of Florida.

What He is There For.

"No," shouted Mr. Heney. "I have come for the purpose of apprising the president that he is accepting stolen goods if he takes these delegates when you give them to him."

Mr. Rosewater again told Mr. Heney to confine himself to the arguments and not "talk to the galleries."

Heney declared he was talking to members of the committee "from Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and other states."

Continuing, Mr. Heney insisted the call of the republican national committee provided that state laws should not interfere with district election of delegates provided the district wanted to exercise its rights. In the fourth district, he said, the republican organization had never protested legally to the selection of delegates.

Mr. Devine asked Mr. Heney if the California law did not prohibit any district from electing delegates and if all did not have to be at large?

"Yes to get on the ticket," shouted Heney, "but not to be seated by this committee."

"Answer my question," said Devine.

"No district could select its own delegates, under your law."

Mr. Heney then presented certificates and affidavits showing that a confusion had existed in voting registers in the Fourth and Fifth California districts, and that later examination showed that Roosevelt men had received a majority of votes.

Johnson's Hot Statement.

Mr. Heney then announced that Gov. Johnson had refused to appear before the committee and read a letter from the governor as follows:

"I decline to appear before the committee. I will not submit to a trial to the title of property by the thief who steals it. I consider it would be an insult to the people of California for me to appear before a committee which obsequiously receive's Calhoun's hogue or even listen to a contest by Patrick Calhoun, designed to override a majority of 77,000 California republicans and which has prejudged the contest.

"This so-called 'contest' in the Fourth district is purely mythical. There were no contests in California. Neither were there any delegates selected from any district. All California's delegates are delegates at large. If this committee can put two of our delegates on trial I don't see what prevents them from putting all on trial."

Refused a Roll Call.

A motion to seat the delegates from the Fourth California district made by Mr. Estabrook, New Hampshire, was followed by a motion by Borah to seat the Roosevelt delegates.

A roll call was refused on the Borah motion, and it was defeated viva voce.

A roll call then began on the Estabrook motion which was carried, 36 to 16.

James A. Tawney, casting the vote of Brooker, of Minnesota, declared the recognition of states, instead of congressional districts in seating delegates would completely overthrow republican principles. Senator Borah voting against the Taft delegates, reiterated his statement of yesterday that he would always vote for delegates who had been selected at primaries where the people had an opportunity to express themselves.

"Can you give to a voluntary organization," he demanded, referring to the national committee, "greater power than is invested in a sovereign state?" You are making it impossible for a republican to preside over this nation for the next four years. It's a greater question than the election of Taft or Roosevelt, it is a question of the perpetuation of the principles for which Lincoln lived and died."

Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, declared he believed the voters of the Fourth California district had cast a majority of votes for the Taft delegates and that they were entitled to seats.

Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota, voting against the Taft delegates insisted that the popular vote in California was the true expression of the wishes of the people there.

Both Mr. Kellogg and Senator Borah said they had voted for the Taft delegates at large in Indiana solely because they believed the people of Indianapolis, had, at a primary, endorsed Taft.

Chairman Rosewater voted for the Taft delegates, saying he believed they had been properly elected.

The Taft delegates were seated by a vote of 37 to 16.

At the end of the roll call, Mr. Schakleford of Alaska, (who assailed Mr. Heney, when voting) moved to return to Governor Johnson of California "without comment, the note Mr. Heney had read to the committee in which reference was made to 'stealing delegates.'"

The Schakleford resolution was laid on the table without a roll call. The committee next took up the Louisiana contest involving the six delegates at large.

One delegate for Col. Roosevelt, the first awarded him since the national committee began the hearing of contest cases last Friday, and seventeen for President Taft were the net results of yesterday's session of the republican national committee.

In all a hundred and one delegates had been accorded President Taft since the committee opened its hearings. The one placed in the Roosevelt column yesterday was D. E. Edwards, from the Eleventh district of Kentucky. The Taft forces on the committee refused by a vote of 33 to 19 to seat both of the Roosevelt delegates whose places were contested, but agreed to a split which gave Col. Roosevelt and President Taft each one delegate from the district.

The half victory for Col. Roosevelt came at the end of a day in which all of the other much discussed contests from Kentucky had been decided in President Taft's favor. In some of these the Roosevelt men had acquiesced; in others they had mustered a vote of from 11 to 17 against the Taftites.

Senator Borah, the most active Roosevelt adherent in the committee, protested against splitting the Eleventh district delegation.

"There is no justification for it," he declared. "If one is given both should be."

Arthur I. Vorys, of Ohio, had made the motion to seat the divided delegation. John G. Capers, Senator Borah and Francis J. Heney led an effort to adopt a substitute to seat both Roosevelt men, but they could muster only 19 votes. The split delegation was then unanimously seated.

BOSTON STRIKE SITUATION.

Boston, June 12.—Cars ran on all surface, elevated and tunnel lines of the Boston elevated railway today on normal schedules, according to the company, but on far less satisfactory time than on previous days, in the opinion of those employes who struck six days ago for a minimum wage and recognition of the union. For the first time since the strike began cars were operated between midnight and sunrise.

BULLETIN.

Chicago, June 12.—In the Louisiana contests the Loisel or "black and tan" delegation-at-large, six delegates, was this afternoon credited to Taft by the republican national committee.

POLICE TOLD TO WATCH CRACKERS

They Will Also Keep Their Eyes on Other Fireworks on Display.

FOR SANE FOURTH

Just to get as near a sane Fourth of July as the city ordinances will permit, the members of the police department have been supplied with copies of the ordinance against high explosives passed last winter and have been told to watch the displays in the store windows to insure that none of the merchants offer for sale any firecrackers, torpedoes, potash tablets or any kind of fireworks that do not conform to the requirements.

Chief Abbott, of the police department, announced today that there will be no exceptions and that firecrackers more than three inches in length and loaded with any dynamite or other high explosive will subject the person in whose possession they are found to arrest.

The deadly toy pistol must also be no longer than three inches and this precludes the use of revolvers even though blank cartridges are used in them. Potash tablets more than one-half inch in diameter and more than one-sixteenth inch thick are also tabooed.

The policemen are getting their instructions early so that they can warn any of the merchants who attempt an infraction of the law because of ignorance of its provisions. The police chief contends that they had sufficient warning and that if they purchased any stock that is not contemplated under the new sane Fourth measure they must suffer the penalty.

SURGEON TALKS OF MONEY EVIL

Indiana Man Discusses the Fee Splitting Habit.

HE SAYS MANY DO IT

Columbus, Ind., June 12.—Dr. Alfred P. Roope, of this city, who retired as president of the Fourth District Medical society, stirred up considerable comment among physicians because of his address delivered at the meeting of the society in North Vernon. He spoke on "Professional Dignity," and in part he said:

"Beyond the enactment of laws to raise the educational standards little is done to raise professional standing, and while one is essential, it is not all and alone will not raise the standard of the profession. We need the application and enforcement of some rigid hygienic laws to our own methods. In other words, we need a cleaning, and it had better be done by ourselves if we wish to attain the distinction and consideration which we like to feel should be given us.

"And is it for the occasional consultation fee or from goodness of heart and delicacy of feeling that we keep honored among us the men who, having had opportunity and ability, still have kept no pace with the times and are satisfied with what lingers in the memory of the ministrations of the alma mater fifteen, twenty or thirty years ago—men who prefer to call for help over conditions that they do not recognize rather than because they do recognize serious conditions? Again, the public has its own opinion and we would not care a rap for the opinion of the public if we did not know in our hearts that the public is in a measure right.

"There is another practice that is becoming so common among us as to have received much attention from the lay press—and it is right that it should, much as the publicity hurts our pride, for it raises a question in which the public has the right of voice—the practice of fee splitting. That this is becoming very common in our state among men doing little and men doing a great deal of work, including some men connected with the medical colleges as educators, cannot be questioned. It is a practice which has no justification. Dr. Reed, of Cincinnati, in a recent article said that it was a matter of great pride to him that he had never been 'approached' on this subject. Such has not been my good fortune.

"Some time ago I received a letter describing an operative case and asking my fees, commissions, etc., and only a short time ago I was called in consultation by a man with whom I had had no previous professional relations. Tentative arrangements for an operation were made. I knew that he had been sending his work to one of the most liberal fee splitters, and I asked him what he had been getting and what he expected out of this case. He said: 'Well, I assist in the operation and out of a $150 fee I get $50 for my assistance.' I told him that I would furnish my own assistants and that since this case had been arranged, I would give him the $50, with the understanding that I tell the patient what had become of it. This case never came to an operation and I have no more consultations and no operations referred by this man.

"One assertion of the family physician is that the patient will not pay him but will raise money for the surgeon. In that case the surgeon may refuse to operate until the family physician is paid, he may back the medical man in charging a higher fee for his services in diagnosis, but he may not collect a fee for the physician without the patient knowing it and receiving due credit on his account. I have been told by physicians that they would not send a patient to a surgeon who did not pay a fee, and I have been told by a surgeon, a man of ability, in the service of one of the largest hospitals in the state, and a teacher in the state university, that he would give thirty-three and one-third per cent. commission for cases. 'I have to,' said he; 'all the rest do, and I can't get along without business.'

"Take, for instance, Blank. We can't keep him out of business; he pays such commissions, and he does an immense amount of work, and yet he actually loses one-third of his major cases on an average. (I may say incidentally that the hospital at which Blank operates was promoted and is supported by a religious organization, and that persons in authority are aware of his high mortality, but his business is a tangible asset; so the physicians are not the only guilty ones.) Gentlemen, is there any dignity there? This is a practice that must stop; it is going to stop one way or the other, but it is up to the profession to stop it, to do their own cleaning."

Dr. Roope is at the head of the city hospital here and is one of the best known surgeons in the state.

The Motorcycle Menace

One of these days the Fort Wayne newspapers will be called upon to present for the edification of the local public the harrowing details of a tragedy as the result of motorcycle speeding, and the list of dead and injured will cause the average reader to shudder with horror, but even the sincere deprecations of well-meaning folk will be small comfort to the victims. That serious if not fatal accident as a result of the almost criminal speeding of these machines through the city is not a daily occurrence is one of the things that passes the understanding of those who have taken account of the performance of the average motorcyclist.

There has been much hue and cry, and justly, too, over the speeding of the automobile, and there appears to have been some little reformation in this direction. Not so with the motorcycle. The machines are largely ridden by boys and young men who have apparently no sort of conception of decency in the matter of speed, and to whom consideration of the rights and the public safety of others has never occurred. They tear through the streets at a terrific speed, and both the foot passenger and the individual in carriage or automobile is lucky if he manages to evade the clutches of the motorcycle speed demon.

Perhaps a fair sample of the sort of thing that occurs every day was developed in the city court yesterday when it was shown that two of these machines had been driven over the streets of Fort Wayne at a speed of thirty-seven miles an hour. What sort of chance has the general public for life and limb against a performance of this sort? The motorcycle drivers are flagrantly violating the law every day, and in doing it are endangering the life and the safety of others. Drastic enforcement of the law that will mean arrest and fines appears to be the only remedy that gives any sort of promise of efficacy in dealing with this species of the speedomaniac.

The fact that but two Indiana food handling establishments were found to have been violating the Indiana pure food laws and were subjected to fines during the month of May indicates that dealers as well as people generally are beginning to entertain a wholesome respect for the Indiana statute that demands cleanliness and purity in food products. There has been tremendous reformation along these lines in Indiana during the past few years, and the pure food law is undoubtedly with us to stay.

The re-election of Attorney Jesse Macbeth as a member of the board of school trustees by the city council last evening was a deserved testimonial of appreciation of the efforts Mr. Macbeth has made in behalf of the Fort Wayne schools during his first term of office. His familiarity with practical school work over a long period of years equips him to an unusual degree to deal with the problems which confront the highly important board of education.

Senator Kern would be eminently acceptable as chairman and keynote orator of the democratic national convention, but Indiana doesn't desire to "hog" things. She will be content with the nomination of Governor Marshall for president and allow the other honors to be passed 'round.

Well, it is at least evident that the score at Chicago isn't going to be a shut-out for Capt. Roosevelt's team.

THE PRESS EXPRESSES NEED OF BATTLESHIPS.

The Caucus Whip.

Philadelphia Inquirer: "Dancing to the crack of the caucus whip the democratic house refused to incorporate in the appropriations for the navy any provision whatever for new battleships. A Colorado democrat, Mr. Rucker, advanced the novel idea that battleships are out of date anyway, since along may come an aeroplane or something or other like that and blow everything up."

"For Politics Only."

Washington Post: "The senate sharply emphasizes its general attitude of opposition to the house policy of legislation for politics only by restoring the two battleship programme in the naval appropriation bill."

Navy Yards and the Canal.

Portland Oregonian: "The democrats cling tenaciously to their beloved navy yards, but allow the navy which is to use these yards to sink to fifth rank. They do not grudge money to finish the Panama canal, but they leave the canal open for use by an Asiatic fleet in attacking New York or by a European fleet in attacking our Pacific ports."

"Unmistakably Expressed."

Washington Star: "The naval committee of the senate has risen to the situation. In voting for two new battleships it has responded to public sentiment unmistakably expressed."

"Economy of the House."

Richmond Virginian: "The senate's action in restoring to the naval bill the two battleships provision rescues the country from neglect of the manifest duty to keep the navy at the point of efficiency and at the same time saves the carefully made up face of economy of the house."

"Not a Partisan Question."

Charleston News and Courier: "No party which is not enthusiastically in favor of the maintenance of the navy can be successful in November. It ought not to be a partisan question. If it is, whatever party is in opposition enters the campaign hopelessly handicapped."

Navy Armaments.

Philadelphia Ledger: "If we and the rest of the world had reached the point when the futility of naval armaments was universally recognized it might be economy to withhold appropriations for additional battleships. But the only effect of such action now would be to make the United States lose the ground already gained."

WHAT WILL THE DEMOCRATS DO?

(Kansas City Star.)

As the democratic convention is to be held after the republican convention it necessarily attracts less attention at this stage of its approach than it would attract if it were the first in order. The dramatic situation in Chicago, where a group of politicians have set themselves the task of stealing the republican nomination, has further emphasized the Chicago "attraction."

Yet the democratic situation is likewise of intense interest. Not for many years have the two parties, so near the time of their conventions, been in such apparently even balance as to their chances of success. Whatever the event proves these chances are really worth, there is no doubt that the democrats are more hopeful of November success than they have been since the last Grover Cleveland canvass. Consequently there has been more ginger in their pre-convention campaigning than has usually characterized their efforts. And consequently, too, the doubt as to who their candidate will be makes a prophecy not much better than a guess.

With Mr. Champ Clark in the lead of the candidates, still no one concedes him a majority, to say nothing of a two-thirds majority. Will Mr. Clark get the requisite votes later? Will Governor Woodrow Wilson develop enough second choice strength (as a result of his strenuous campaigning against the whole opposed field) to place him as the party's leader? With Roosevelt as the republican nominee will the democratic convention decide to bid for reactionary republican support and nominate a conservative like Harmon or Underwood?

Such questions present themselves and enliven the speculation. Overshadowing the whole field there is the figure of Mr. Bryan. Will the convention of 1906 repeat itself? Will there be a dark horse nominee? And will Mr. Bryan be that nominee?

It is certainly an interesting line of events the democratic show offers. And when the boards are cleared at Chicago the country's political eyes will turn eagerly to Baltimore.

NEW CHAUFFEUR NOW OPERATES THE ROAD ROLLER

All Questions Answered Relative to River Improvement.

By Municipal Ownership and Civic Improvement Committee.

TEN YEARS TO PAY IN.

Question—If our river parks and river frontage are to be purchased, ought they not to be purchased by neighboring property which will be benefited by the improvement of the river frontage?

Answer—No. Such property holders are not to own them after they are purchased—the city of Fort Wayne—the taxpayers of Fort Wayne are to own them, therefore the city at large should purchase them.

Question—After they are purchased, who should improve them?

Answer—The property owners benefited by the improvements. The abutting property would pay the most with the percentage rapidly diminishing as you moved back from the point of improvement. This would be an equitable division of the cost between the city and the adjacent property holders. These improvements could not be forced upon property holders. However, as it would greatly benefit all neighboring property, they would probably ask that it be done without too much delay.

Question—A poor man's property might be assessed, say $20, for benefits from some such improvement and yet he might find it difficult to raise the $20; would he have to pay it all at one time?

Answer—No, the law provides if his assessed benefits are $10 or more that he can pay it in ten annual installments.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP AND CIVIC IMPROVEMENT COMMITTEE.

FORBIDDEN TRADE PRACTICES.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

The decree entered in the United States district court yesterday against the Aluminum Company of America, by consent of the company, affords an example of a trust case brought to the point of a final decree with a virtual admission of the practices of the inequitable methods enjoined. It is therefore interesting to note their recountal in a practically undisputed judgment.

The company is forbidden, first and principally, to combine either by stock ownership or otherwise, to control or restrain output or fix and control prices; to delay shipments to a competitor or suspend fulfilment of contracts or partially filled orders; to charge higher prices to a competitor than are charged to any of the companies in which the defendant is financially interested; to refuse to sell crude or semi-finished aluminum to prospective competitors in any branch of the aluminum goods business; to require as a condition of selling to a competitor to divulge the terms on which such competitor will sell the product or to import to anyone the purposes for which the competitor intends to use such metal; to require or compel the making of agreements by competitors not to engage in any line of business in competition with the defendant or its subsidiary companies; to represent or intimate to competitors that unless they deal with the defendant or its allied companies they will not be given equal treatment in the supply of crude aluminum or its price.

This, with other details that reach a voluminous total, indicate the trade practices that now are ranked as illegal and which are recognized as having been frequently resorted to. By eschewing all methods and seeking to conduct business simply on its own merits the great corporations that profess to be burdened by incertitude as to what they can do will find themselves entirely safe.

AS PATIENT AS JOB.

Sixteen Homestead Seekers Camp Half a Year Near Land Office.

North Yakima, Wash., June 12.—Eighteen men and women, sixteen of whom have camped at the door of the United States land office since December 26, say they will stay there until the lands to be opened for homestead entry under the third unit of the Tieton irrigated project are actually opened.

Although an announcement has been made in Washington, D. C., that the drawing will not be made, the prospective settlers persist in holding their places. It is believed the government intends to distribute the land by lot. One of the ten who have held preference rights and have made applications for the expected drawing, three have been rejected because they are married women, six have not acquired membership in the water users' association, and but one has a water right.

The land of the third Tieton unit, it is said, will be worth $100 an acre the moment Uncle Sam deeds it away.

A sprained ankle may as a rule be cured in from three to four days by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and observing the directions with each bottle. For sale by all dealers.

Already he has attained slight results.

Mr. Lummis says he will accomplish his purpose without the aid of physicians, and his efforts promise to be successful, for there came a ray of light to the eyes of the stricken man that did not hurt. Mr. Lummis regards this as a turn for the better.

The marriage was performed at the home of the bride's parents, No. 165 Glenwood avenue. The Rev. J. Mare Ericeson, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church, officiated.

Be A Perfect Man

With No Back Pains—No Nervousness—No loss of Ambition, But With Plenty of Life and Energy and the Vigor of Youth Restored.

To be strong and manly is the aim of every man, and yet how many we find who are wasting the vitality and strength which nature gives them. Instead of developing into the strong, vigorous, manly men that nature intended them to be, they find themselves broken down, and despondent—no ambition to do anything. They struggle aimlessly along, sooner or later to become victims of dreaded disorders, their finer sensibilities blunted and their nerves shattered.

Is This the Way You Feel? Do you feel tired in the morning and easily exhausted; is your back weak or lame? Do you have difficulty in fixing your thoughts? Is your memory failing? Are you losing ambition? Do you feel you are not the man you once were? Do you have hot flashes up and down the spine or sudden weak spells at the base of the brain, sudden spells like fright from no apparent cause? Are you very restless or sleepless at nights? Are you very nervous or irritable, with a feeling that you want to be alone? Are you gloomy with a sense of some great oppression upon you? If so, then you need my treatment now and I want you to call or write today. Don't delay. You surely do not want to remain in this condition. Don't suffer longer. I cure others. I can cure you. Master your disease before it masters you.

My Fees Are Within Reach of the Workingman

FAILED TO WALK CRACK IN COURT

William Wilson Given Chance to Step His Way to Liberty.

ICE MAN IS FINED

"You ain't sober yet," said Judge Mungovan in the city court today to William Wilson, who was begging off from a fine of $1 and costs and insisting that he was not intoxicated when he was arrested yesterday.

"Bet you I am. I can walk a crack."

"Well, I'll fine you $1 and costs and the next time you come before me it will mean 140 days."

"If I can walk a crack, judge, will you let me go?"

"Get out there and try it."

Wilson tried it, but missed the crack the second or third step and his misstep cost him eleven days in jail. He is an old offender.

Ice Man Fined.

John Cartwright, who has been employed by the Consumers' Ice company about two weeks, was fined $10 and costs for delivering to Mrs. J. N. Fulton, 723 Columbia avenue, a piece of ice that weighed thirty-two pounds in filling her order for fifty. He offered to take the ice back and weigh it but was denied the privilege and an affidavit was filed after it had been ascertained that short weight had been given.

The Other Cases.

Martin Mungovan, who insists he is a relative to the judge, got $5 and costs for drunkenness. The judge said he wanted to entertain his "relative" but didn't feel able to do it at home so he would give him fifteen days' board at the county jail.

The case of loitering against John Kissinger, who made his escape from the sheriff of Grant county Monday night after he had been turned over by the local authorities, was dismissed.

Joseph Jensen, Tom Cassidy and William Green, all charged with vagrancy, were released as they said they wanted work and a contractor was waiting there to give them jobs. Terry Johnson was fined $1 and costs for public intoxicatin.

Owensville, Ind., June 12.—Mrs. Daniel W. May, of this city, has been a weaver of carpets and rugs for thirty-six years, and she will regret the day when the infirmities of age prevent her from running the loom. Mrs. May's work is in demand, and despite the advent of machine-made carpets and rugs she has many orders for specimens of her handiwork. Mrs. May weaves about seven yards of rugs every day in addition to looking after her household duties. She has woven four hundred yards in a single year. Mrs. May says the work of cutting carpet rugs is an art few women have mastered.

HUSBAND DROVE WIFE TO PLOUGH

Young Russian Woman Seeks Refuge in America.

GIVEN A DIVORCE

Greeley, Col., June 12.—A story of extreme cruelty, flight to America with her child from Russia to escape her husband's tyranny, drudgery in the beet fields and ultimate renewal of a former romance in Russia was told in Greeley courts when Anna Galaduchina, a young Russian woman, was granted a divorce from her husband in Europe.

The girl says she was hitched to a plough by her husband and driven in the fields. When she became tired, she says, he whipped her and otherwise brutally mistreated her. She fled from him and with her young child managed to reach friends in Windsor, where a few months ago she met an early sweetheart.

Her husband, learning she had fled to America, followed, but was deported upon his arrival at New York when officers questioned and found him to be a desperate character.

She will be married to the young Windsor Russian when a year has expired.

LEE TO STAY HERE

Clifford S. Lee, field agent and assistant secretary of the Indiana Manufacturers' and Shippers' association, who has been in Fort Wayne several months engaged in organizing a Fort Wayne branch of the association, has decided to make this city his headquarters for the summer while perfecting the organization work throughout the northern part of the state.

Since perfecting the organization in Fort Wayne Mr. Lee has secured more than one hundred additional members representing Huntington, Kendallville, Auburn, Angola, Lagrange, Columbia City, Marion, Elkhart, Peru and Kokomo.

A communication from State Secretary Zartman, of Indianapolis, gives the information that the work of the organization throughout the state is progressing satisfactorily. The reduction of the log rate in Indiana has been accomplished and becomes effective June 20. The association has also appointed a committee to confer with a committee of the Indiana Bar association, for the purpose of drafting a satisfactory workmen's compensation law, to be presented to the next session of the legislature. Addison C. Harris is chairman of the committee from the Bar association, and has called a meeting to be held in July at South Bend.

Ellinger, son of Mrs. Mary Ellinger, of Ohio City, Ohio, which will take place at the Barrow home, 653 High street, at 4 o'clock on Wednesday, June 19. The wedding will be a quiet one owing to a recent death in the bride's family and only a few relatives will be present at the ceremony, which will be performed by Rev. T. M. Hill, of Trinity M. E. church.

Miss Anna White Philley gave a beautiful shower party on June 6 in honor of Miss Mabel Ogden who is to be married on June 22 to Rollin Houk. The rooms were decorated in the colors of pink and white with sweetpeas and daisies and delicious refreshments were served afterwards.

The members of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, Antionette Court No. 870, were delightfully entertained yesterday by Mrs. Frank J. Federspeil. The merry crowd gathered at the beautiful suburban home of Mrs. Federspiel at an early hour in the afternoon and at six o'clock a tempting picnic supper was served in the grove. The white tables formed a pleasing contrast to nature's color scheme and no other decoration was necessary to arouse the appetites of the picnickers. After supper the guests retreated to the house where a musical program were enjoyed and altogether the affair was one which will long be remembered by the Foresters.

The hostess for a birthday party of last Friday was little Nellie Reim, who lives in Green street. Miss Nellie was eight years old and her mother arranged a happy surprise for her by inviting a number of friends to come in after school. Miss Nellie went on an errand and on her return found her guests, whom she immediately began to entertain with games. Later in the afternoon Mrs. Reim invited the children to supper. The dining room was decorated in white and pink. There were many roses used while a big birthday cake, iced and having eight pink candles burning on it, proved the most fascinating object in the room. Cakes, ice cream and candies were all pink and white in color. There was music during the time and the guests spent the merriest kind of a time. The children present were Evelyn Jamey, Dorothea and Wilda Cline, Katherine Kramer, Virginia Bender, Beatrice Brown, Esther Bowsman, Luella Muller, Lucile Rasmus, Ruth Bill, Mildred Newcoms and Master Emil Jamey, who is called the mascot by many of his friends.

Fisher-White.

A very lovely appearing bride was Miss Virginia Hill White whose marriage to Mr. Roger Irving Fisher, took place on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. White, in West Berry street. As Miss Emel Verweire played the bridal music from "Lohengrin" the bridal party came down stairs, the bride preceded by her sister, Miss Dorothy White, and two children, tiny Jane Fisher and Master Jack White who, dressed in white, bore in their hands, baskets filled with pink roses. The bride entered the drawing room where the marriage service was read by Rev. H. B. Master, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, with her father and met the bridegroom near a pretty arrangement of palms and white baskets filled with dozens of white peonies and syringa blossoms. The bride was handsomely but simply gowned in an ivory white satin duchess, with train and made with short sleeves and slightly low neck. The bodice was fashioned almost entirely of bohemian lace held with a handsome pearl buckle and the drapery of the skirt was held by a similar ornament and orange blossoms. The bride wore her mother's wedding veil, fashioned into a cap and held in place with orange blossoms, a string of pearls the gift of the groom's parents and a beautiful bar pin of diamonds and sapphires, the wedding gift of the groom. The bridal bouquet was made of lilies of the valley. Miss Dorothy White wore an exquisite gown of pink crepe de meteor with tunic of silk white marquisette. The low cut neck and short sleeves were outlined with a beautiful applique of tiny pink satin rosebuds and green leaves and a bandeau of the same trimming was worn in the hair. A bouquet of pink butterfly sweetpeas completed the bridesmaid's costume. After congratulations, Miss Verweire played the Mendelssohn wedding march as the wedding party entered the dining room where an elaborate dinner was served. The long table was decorated in pink roses and strands of plumosus with handsome candlesticks of pink hooded candles at either end. The crystal basket in the center of the table was filled with Killarneys and wide pink gauze ribbons entwined with the plumosus extended from either side to smaller baskets of flowers. The place cards were monogramed in gold. The decorations of the living room were pink peonies, the wide hall was done in pinkhued snapdragon and the sun porch where a few guests were seated for the dinner was hung with branches of oak leaves while peonies and pink roses in vases all arranged by Miss Flick, lent the needed color. The small dinner tables were decorated with vases of roses. Later in the evening the bride and groom left on their wedding trip and will spend two weeks in eastern cities. For traveling the bride wore a taupe silk tailored costume with embroidered chiffon waist of the same coloring and a black hat trimmed with white numandie feathers. Mrs. White, mother of the bride, was handsomely gowned in a white charmeuse covered with black chantilly lace. The guests were relatives all of whom live in the city and included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Cynthia Hill.

Howard—Monson.

The following account of the marriage of Miss Hazel Monson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Monson, formerly residents of this city but now living in San Francisco, will interest the many friends of the bride. The San Francisco Examiner of the date of June 5 says:

"Last night, at the conclusion of the Monson-Howard nuptials, Mr. and Mrs. Howard left on a yachting trip that will take them on a cruise of the southern waters. Mr. Howard is one of the best amateur yachtsmen of the coast. Nothing could have been more befitting than the yachting trip. His ship, the Minerva, has been fitted up as one would fit up a boat for a honeymoon voyage, and the young couple will pass the next month on a cruise, going as far south as San Diego.

"The marriage of Miss Hazel Monson and Volney Howard took place last night at 9 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church, a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Monson, in Washington street, detaining the friends for another pleasant hour.

"The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Guthrie. Mrs. Alice Pennington of Denver and Miss Margaret Little of Wabash, Ind., came to the coast for the wedding, attending their school chum as bridesmaids. Norwood Howard, brother of the bridegroom, stood with him. The guests were escorted to their pews by the Messrs. Charles Seylor, George Innes, Bruce McNeil and William Reid, all well-known Los Angeles men.

"The bride's gown was a handsome thing of white charmeuse and ivory brocade, the long train being made of the latter material. A tulle veil, clasped with orange blossoms, covered the gown. A pretty bouquet of lilies of the valley completed the very becoming attire. The pretty attendants were gowned alike, in pale blue crepe, embroidered in blue, with chiffon overdresses. They wore tulle caps, with roses, and carried a sheaf of pink roses. The church was adorned with white flowers, with a profusion of greens—ferns, shrubs and palms. The house, where the guests sat down to a repast after the reception, was in pink throughout. Mrs. L. W. Monson, mother of the bride, received with them. Her gown was of black chiffon and lace made over white."

Houden—Wilson.

An exceedingly pretty and attractive wedding took place at 2 o'clock today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Wilson, in Park avenue, when their niece, Miss Belle Black Wilson, became the bride of Ray Clarence Houden, of Belfast, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. W. Montgomery, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, in the presence of relatives and a few of the most intimate friends. Miss Della Yann played the wedding music. It was a daisy wedding, many daisies decorating the house and vases of both daisies and syringa with palms filling the bay window enclosure in which the bride and groom stood as they were married. The bride, a pretty and attractive young woman of sweet nature, wore a white lace gown embroidered very handsomely and over which fell the long folds of her veil. The bridal bouquet was composed of bride roses. There were no attendants. After congratulations the wedding party was served an elegant dinner. The house was tastefully trimmed with many flowers, daisies, pink and white peonies and greens, all adding to the charming effect. The bride's table was decorated with old fashioned candelabra, tied with pink ribbon and filled with white candles and pink roses. The bride and groom left this afternoon for a trip to northern lakes and they will make their home in Belfast, N. Y., where Mr. Houden is a cashier in a bank. For traveling the bride wore a light tan serge suit with hat to match. The guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Houden, of Filmore, N. Y.; Mrs. Charles Arnold and Miss Margaret Arnold, of Bluffton; Miss Grace Gillette, of Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. James Swoger, of Pittsburg. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Houden, of Belfast, and is a young man of excellent character. The bride was graduated from the public schools and the Fort Wayne Normal school and had taught a few months in the city schools. The bride will leave many devoted friends in this city.

Zink—Ehle.

Miss Helen L. Ehle and Mr. William Zink were married at 10 o'clock this morning at the parsonage of St. John's Reformed church by Rev. J. H. Bosch. The bride, a beautiful young woman, was especially pretty in appearance in her wedding gown of cream silk messaline hung over silk and trimmed with princess lace. The bride wore a lace hat with white plumes and held a bouquet of Golden Gate roses. Miss Emma Kouder, the bridesmaid, wore a pretty gown of white embroidery made over pink silk, a white hat trimmed with pink and white flowers and carried pink roses. Mr. August Hirschman attended the bridegroom. The bride and groom went on a trip to lake resorts and will be at home after June 20 at 2315 Buchanan street. Both bride and groom are much respected and popular young people.

JUNIOR ORCHESTRA CONCERT.

Work of Children, Directed by Mr. Baihle Pleases Large Audience.

The first appearance of a new musical organization, the Junior Symphony orchestra, in the auditorium of the high school last evening, brought out an audience of between three and four hundred people. The fact that the orchestra was composed of children from the schools interested the parents and children and the excellence of the work astonished everyone. There are thirty boys and girls in the orchestra who play violins, cornets, trombone and drums with Miss Helene Spindler, pianist, accompanying. The orchestra has been drilled by Gaston Baihle, violin teacher of the European School of Music and his dicipline of the children was wonderful.

The children played splendidly. They kept together well, got good tones and showed appreciation of the spirit of the music they were playing. In one way there was an air of the professional about the performance. The curtain rose displaying the orchestra seated on the stage just as a Thomas or a Minneapolis symphony body of musicians would sit. Mr. Baihle came on the stage, bowed to the applause that greeted him, lifted his hand and the young performers started a march adapted from Wagner with the same dignity and apparent appreciation of their attitude toward music and a performance as the professionals would have done.

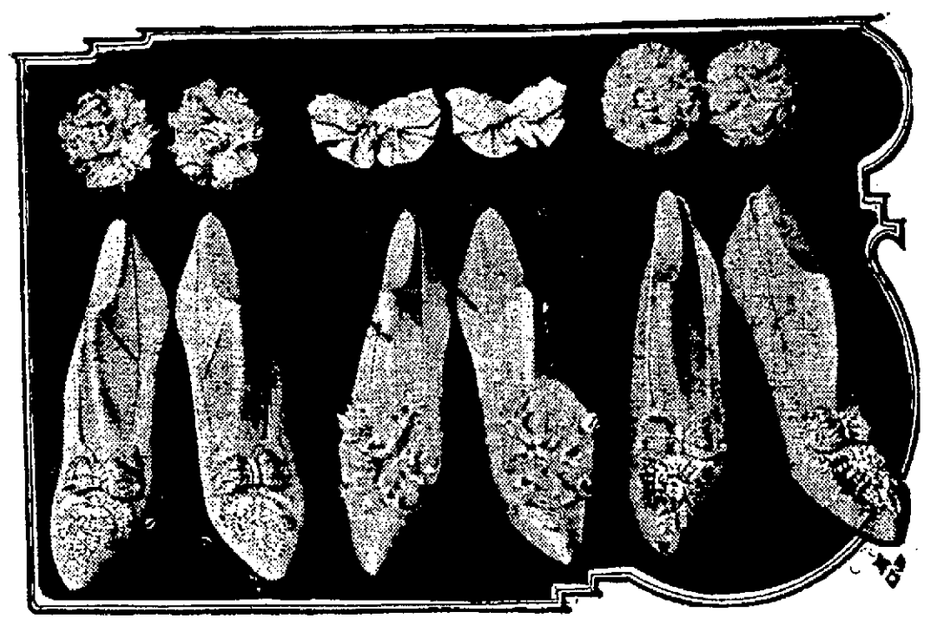
It was a delight to watch the children play and the admiration of the audience was divided between the tiptop way they played the music and followed their director and the perfect manner in which they conducted themselves. At the close of the first number a storm of applause greeted them and it continued until Mr. Baihle had the children rise and bow their thanks.

The second selection by the children was "Nazareth" by Gounod and it was finely played. People clapped and clapped and Mr. Baihle smiled while the children's faces bore expression of the pleasure they felt in having done so well and in pleasing their listeners.

The closing number of the orchestra was the most difficult number they attempted and while some of the violins had lost their pitch a bit, there was still that evidence of training and discipline and a feeling for the music itself, that made the playing a real delight. Soloists of the evening were Miss Edith Nickell who sang two groups of songs to Miss Spindler's accompaniment in her customary attractive way and Miss Christine Pape, who showed marked improvement in her violin work in two numbers, Raff's "Cavatina" and a gavotte by Gosse. The children composing the orchestra are Frank Archibold, Blanche Barner, Katherine Branham, Eugenia Chambers, Catherine Dinklage, Lester Frech, Emmet Spindler, Edwin Scheele, Edward Spiegel, Virginia and Mary Wood, Arthur Puff, Ruth Beehling, Willard Ropa, Floyd Roy, Irma Reiner, Ervin Stocks, Roy Hanger, Clifton Johnson, Walter Klehe, Lowell Miles, all violins; Robert Pape, Ralph Teeple, Orlie Gaskill, Davis Diffenderfer, Blanche Miles and Clarence Figel, all cornets; Owen Knapp, trombone, and Robert Seidel and Victor Bradbury, drummers.

The proceeds of the concert will be equally divided between the children who took part and a fund towards paying for music next fall when Mr. Baihle will begin rehearsals again. The Women's league gave a donation toward starting the orchestra when it began meeting, as it was necessary to have music at once. The purpose of the concert last night was two-fold, raising money for future work and giving the children's parents and friends an opportunity to know what they had been doing. There was a delay in beginning the program owing to the loss of a part of the music, some of which was not found and the cornet players and drummers were handicapped and had to depend entirely on their memories.

DAINTY SLIPPERS FOR THIS YEAR'S JUNE BRIDE.



Every girl who is preparing her trousseau must think of the bridal accessories.

Sometimes the picking of the slippers and the question of their ornamenting is really more tiresome than choosing the style of the wedding gown itself.

White is the bride's own color, and her footwear must necessarily be white to complete her bridal outfit.

Three pairs of slippers are given here as suggestions to the girl who is still trying to make up her mind. Two pairs are made of white satin with pearl and crystal beads. The third pair also of white satin, have rosettes of tulle into which single orange blossoms have been deftly fastened.

Milady's Toilet Table

By Mme. D'MILLE.

"Dull and lifeless hair make a woman look older than she should. Dry shampooing makes the hair bright, fluffy and clean—full of life and lustre. Put four ounces of powdered orris root in a fruit jar and mix it well with an original package of therox. Sprinkle a teaspoonful of the mixture on the head once a week and brush it out thoroughly. Therox makes hair grow when everything else fails.

"The natural beauty of a person's face is marred by thin and straggly eyebrows and lashes. Rubbing gently with plain pyrexin will induce them to grow long, thick and silky. The eyebrows should be brushed daily to train them to grow into an arch.

"Instead of powder and paint, use a simple complexion lotion made at home by dissolving an original package of mayatone in a half pint of witch hazel. Gently rub over the face in the morning and all day your skin will be as clear, soft and satiny as a baby's—with no dark or muddy discolorations.

"Delatone is equal to the electric needle for the removal of superfluous hair, is positively painless, and not nearly so expensive. Just mix a little delatone with water; cover the wild hairs with this paste; let it remain two minutes, then wash the skin, and the hairs will be gone."

RAISE FLOWERS FOR BIG SHOW

Children of Public and Parochial Schools Are Now Busy.

LETTER IS ISSUED

The distribution of 20,000 "penny packets" of flower and vegetable seeds among the pupils of the public and the parochial schools of Fort Wayne by the civic department of the Woman's League is to have its climax in a magnificent show in August.

The announcement is made today by Mrs. Sam R. Taylor, chairman of the civic department, and it is of the utmost importance to the children because of radical changes from the plans of former years. These changes are:

1—During the past four years the exhibit has been held in September, but it now comes one month earlier.

2—The show was formerly held in the school buildings, but this season it will be made in the large pavilion at the Guildlin playgrounds.

The Announcement.

Mrs. Taylor makes her announcement in the following open letter:

"To All the Young 'Penny Packet' Gardeners of the Public and Parochial Schools of Fort Wayne:

"Prick up your ears, listen, and remember! For four years we held, each September, a children's flower show, where you could display the flowers and vegetables grown under your own care, and those who brought the best received prizes of bulbs or garden tools. But September seemed too late for most flowers, and last year there was no suitable place to hold a show earlier than that, so we tried another plan. However, we are sure that a flower show will please you children best, and this year we will again hold a show and offer prizes.

"The date will be about August 21, and the place will be the large shelter house in the Guildlin playground. There are twenty-four schools whose pupils may enter the contest, and in each school a first and second prize will be given for flowers, and also a prize for the best display of vegetables. Those who exhibit must not be over fourteen nor under seven years of age, and all exhibits must be grown from your 'Penny Packet' seeds. Special rules for entering will be published during the week just preceding the exhibition. You must watch for them, because they are very important, though easy to obey. Tend your gardens faithfully, and bring your very best to the playgrounds when the day comes, so as to make this year's show the prettiest one ever held. We wish you all success and a happy summer."

Mrs. Taylor states that the parochial schools which have become interested in the movement are among the most enthusiastic of all. The four years' experience in the work has done much to stimulate a love of the beautiful on the part of the child, and its effect will be far-reaching.

WORTH KNOWING.

Usually a rubber plant grows straight up in one stalk. To make it throw out numerous branches take a sharp knife and cut the stalk about six inches from the top; then take a little mud and place it over the end of the stalk and tie a little piece of cloth over it in order to prevent the mud from sliding off. This will prevent the plant from "bleeding to death." As a result the plant will put forth new shoots all the way up the stalk. Take the part that was cut off from the top and plant it in another pot. This will take root and you will have another rubber plant if it is given plenty of water. If the leaves are washed with clean water occasionally they will shine and the plant will be healthier.

When creaming potatoes cut them cold boiled; then sprinkle generously with flour and mix all together. Add the amount of cold milk desired, and put all on the fire to cook. As it heats stir gently. It will thicken without lumps and be smooth and creamy. This does away with the disagreeable task of making thickening, and the whole is completed in half the time and with half the work. The same method may be used when frizzling beef or creaming turkey, chicken or codfish. The same principle applies when making cocoa. It is not necessary to melt the cocoa, before adding it to the milk if you put the ingredients together before heating.

A box of fresh, dry sand is an excellent thing to have in a corner of the storeroom or pantry. If apples are carefully packed in the sand they will keep fresh and unshriveled for months.

POPULAR WHITE.

One color that invariably holds its own in popularity, especially in the springtime of the year, is white. The smart modistes have an unusually attractive stock of embroidered white insulin and broderie Anglaise gowns, made for the most part with a most attractive if not especially interesting simplicity.

Some of the really extravagant gowns of this description are so lavishly embroidered, by hand, of course, as to be perfect works of art, scarce a square inch being without its share of delicate and intricate workmanship. The most novel feature of these white muslins are knitted or crocheted waist belts, as gay and glaring and many colored as Joseph's famous coat. No tints and no brilliant contrasts of color are considered too daring to enliven an all white gown.

THE CULT OF THE COAT.

The cult of the coat is a most important one as this season of the year, and more than usually so under Fashion's new regime. Among the new models there are many belted coats which define the waist without constructing it, and one of the quaintest designs is made of chameleon taffetas with a basque wired at the edge to cause it to sand away from the accordion pleated skirt.

Women will welcome the accordion skirt, which is being rendered in voile over silk and in still more fragile fabrics. It falls straight over the foundation, and so is differentiated from the sun-ray method with its spreading lines. The model mentioned above is made of dark blue voile with triple frills above the hem, and the coat is a blue one shot with Bordeaux red and belted with velvet of that color. It has very pretty elbow sleeves caught into silken bands and finished with deep cuffs of biscuit tinted ruffled cambric, which matches the soft vest and is repeated by the big bow that decorates the large Bordeaux straw hat.

Another belted coat as simple in design as can be and of great charm was seen recently. It was made with a Byron collar and drooping sleeves. The Byron collar is a very simple and picturesque affair, with a soft taffetas bow as a finish, and the sleeves of the model were designed with the special intention of showing the sloping shoulders that found favor in Lord Byron's day, when women were very gentle and sensitive creatures, prone to tears, swoons and other "feminine" accomplishments.

FOOD VALUES OF VEGETABLES.

Study the values of garden vegetables as spring tonics and you will understand how important it is to include as many of them as possible on your day's menus. Those who understand how much nature helps in the preservation of beauty and health will eat as little meat as possible, substituting vegetables and fresh fruits.

Celery is more digestible cooked than raw. It is also regarded as an excellent nerve tonic, and is recommended for all persons suffering from nervous disorders.

Rhubarb contains oxalic acid in the proper proportion to tone up the system. It is among the best of nature's laxatives.

Spinach is rich in iron. For this reason it should by all means be included in the spring diet. Cooked tender with bacon, it is easily digested and is very nutritious.

Young onions are valuable, principally because of their pungent oil, containing much sulphur. They induce sleep and are a splendid remedy for spring colds.

Beets contain much sugar. If a good cider vinegar is used in pickling them they are as beneficial as they are delicious.

Carrots, when young and tender, are among the best of complexion beautifiers, especially when taken raw.

Lettuce contains enough harmless opiates to quiet the nerves and cure mild cases of insomnia. It is also a blood purifier.

Parsnips are rich in sugar, have a gratifying effect on the skin and are soothing to the stomach.

Asparagus is very nutritious, being almost as satisfying as meat. It has a cleansing effect upon the entire system.

Hints to the Hostess

It is often difficult to know how to entertain children, as the little ones so soon tire of the games they already know and new games are not easy to find. Here is one called "Bachelor's Kitchen," which has all the charm of a novelty.

The players sit in a row, all but one, who goes to each of the others and asks what he will give to the bachelor's kitchen. Each answers what he pleases, but no two must mention the same article. Then the questioner goes back to the first child and asks all sorts of questions, which must be answered by the name of the article he has given, and by no other word.

"Bachelor's Kitchen."

We will suppose that one of the children gave a box of matches to the bachelor's kitchen. The questioner asks, "What did you have for breakfast?" "A box of matches." "What do you wear on your head?" "A box of matches." "What kind of a house do you live in?" "A box of matches?" The object is to make the answerer laugh, and he is asked a number of questions until he does laugh or is given up as a hard subject. Those who laugh, or add another word to their answer, must pay a forfeit.

Tricks are always entertaining to children and an amusing quarter of an hour may be spent with these two new tricks with eggs:

An Egg Trick.

Take a raw egg and empty it by means of pinholes. As soon as the inside of it is dry fill it a quarter full of fine sand and then with a little white wax seal up the holes.

Now, when you want to entertain and mystify your little guests announce that your egg is ready to obey your slightest word. It will stand on the edge of a knife or the rim of a glass, no matter whether you put it sideways or endways. Occasionlly tap the imitation egg gently so as to cause the sand to settle each time at the bottom, and thus you will get it to assume any position you wish. Of course the children will not know the egg is not a real one.

TIMELY TIP.

Disfiguring scars are often left on the face after eruptions. Nothing will remove them so quickly and effectually as electric massage, the treatment effacing the lumps and red spots in a very short time. A good home treatment is the nightly application of cold compresses, allowing them to remain on until the flesh around the scar is pink. Follow the compresses with an ointment of zinc oxide. Faithful applications are necessary to procude good results.

WOULD NOT VISIT AT HIS OLD HOME

Missing for 17 Years, Father Refused to Go from Fort Wayne to Bluffton.

Bluffton, Ind., June 12.—Charles Spencer is back in Bluffton after visiting at Fort Wayne with his father, Calvin W. Spencer, who left home seventeen years ago and returned just as unexpectedly Sunday after being declared legally dead. Mr. Spencer, senior, stopped at Fort Wayne as the guest of William Thane and L. H. Johnston, 2128 Broadway, the latter being his brother-in-law, the husband of a deceased sister of Mr. Spencer.

Both Charles Spencer and his sister, Mrs. Lottie Barrick, wife of E. C. Barrick, of Uniondale, tried in every way to persuade their father to come to visit the scenes of his former residence in this county, but they could advance no effective argument and he returned to Albany, New York, where he has a lucrative business as a cattle buyer.

The son stated that his father is in independent circumstances and that he will take steps to turn the money on deposit in a local bank, due him from the estate of his deceased wife, over to his two children, amounting now to several hundred dollars.

He inquired about many of his old friends in and about Oesian, where he was formerly a butcher, and Uniondale, but steadfastly refused to come to visit them. Mr. Spencer is 63 years of age and is enjoying the best of health. He had little to say to his son concerning his reasons for leaving his home.

S.S.S. HEALS SORES AND ULCERS

S. S. S. heals Sores and Ulcers in the very simplest way. It just goes right down into the blood and removes the cause, and the place is bound to heal because the impurities and morbid matters which have been the means of keeping the ulcer open are no longer absorbed from the blood. External applications of salves, lotions, plasters, etc., can never produce a cure because they do not reach the source of the trouble. At best they can only allay pain or reduce inflammation; such treatment is working on symptoms and not reaching the cause. Every nutritive corpuscle in the blood is weakened or infected, they cannot nourish the fibrous tissue around the place, but instead they constantly discharge into the flesh around the sore a quantity of impure, germ-laden matter which gradually eats into the surrounding healthy tissue and causes the ulcer to enlarge. Since impure blood is responsible for Sores and Ulcers, a medicine that can purify the blood is the only hope of a cure. S. S. S. has long been recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing the qualities necessary to remove every impurity from the blood. While curing the sore or ulcer S. S. S. brings about a healthy condition of the flesh by supplying it with rich, healthy blood, and thus makes the cure permanent and lasting. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

TWO PITCHERS GET THEIR RELEASES AND TWO JOIN

Mercer Could Not Keep in the Straight and Narrow and Stafford Did Not Show Central Form.

[Special to The Sentinel.]

Zanesville, O., June 12.—Jack Mercer, who joined the Fort Wayne club a couple of months ago and who pitched himself into a regular job on the staff, has been released by Manager Frank J. Shaughnessy who says that he let him go because he broke training and could not keep in condition.

Tal Stafford, who joined the club a short time before it left home on the present trip, has also been released because he did not show the proper form for class B ball, and George W. Harden and Billy Goldrick reported last night.

Manager Frank Shaughnessy is greatly worried over the slump the club has taken and to make matters worse is handicapped by the loss of Roy Keener, who is ill and who had been hitting in the pinches before he retired from the game on account of chills followed by fever. He has been suffering also this season from a number of boils that made their appearance during training and he has not been up to form all year.

There is nothing serious, it is thought, about his condition and he may get back at any time. While he is out one of the pitchers will play the outfield. Harden says he is ready to go in at any time and pitch and either he or Goldrick will be tried out in the afternoon game unless Manager Shaughnessy changes his mind which is not likely as Alberts, Loudell and Beiersdorfer have all worked within the last three days.

Realizing that all chance for an even break on the road is gone the manager will shake up his club a little bit and try to win most of those remaining. Tomorrow the club will go to Akron for three days and after that will take on Canton for three games that will close the first invasion of the east.

In the game here yesterday the want of a hit at the right time beat the locals as they had a half dozen chances to win with a bingle. Phil Stremmel, however, was at his best with men on the bases and the hits he gave the Billikens were so far apart that they never threatened to beat him after he had accumulated a good lead. His support was first class.

Umpire Geisel, who is the real, hard-luck arbitrator of the staff, got a bump in the neck in the game Monday and was out of commission and his duties fell upon Charley Alberts, of the Fort Wayne team, and Catcher Tragresser, of the Potters.

In only one inning did the Potters cross the plate but they grouped enough tallies in this round to insure a victory. Harry Huston opened the fifth with a double and took third on a passed ball. Stremmel drew a pass and advanced on Gilbert's out. Huston scored on Crowder's scratch hit and the pitcher went to third on the play and was held there while Crowder was permitted to steal second without a play on him.

Manager Pendry was up with two on and one gone and he was breezed out of the running, but Dick Grefe checked in with a clean single that sent over two runs more and cinched a victory.

Vandagrift hit in the sixth and on a hit-and-run play with the manager he reached third. Clancy popped to second base and Martin hit the ball to the infield hard enough to permit Vandagrift to score while he was being retired at first base.

Each of the pitchers worked in splendid form in all but the two innings in which they were scored against and a lucky break in the hitting won for the Potters.

CALLED LEJEUNE YELLOW.

Smith and His Outfielder Clash in Canton Game.

Canton, O., June 12.—Larry Lejeune and Manager Ed Smith had a vigorous spat during a game here. Lejeune was sore because he had fanned with the bases full and Smith was boiling over for the same reason. They came together in front of the third-base section of the grand stand.

Smith called Lejeune for his poor work for leaving three men on the sacks when most any kind of a hit would have tied the score. He wasn't at all mild, either. "You're yellow, that's what's wrong with you," yelled Smith so that all in that section of the stand could hear.

Larry didn't deny the accusation but came back with this. "Then get someone that ain't yellow." On top of it he used language that should have caused his suspension for several days. The women in the stands had to listen to it.

PITCHER IS TURNED BACK.

Weidel Could Not Make Good and Zanesville Lets Him Go.

Zanesville, O., June 12.—Pitcher Weidel, who was secured several weeks ago from the Milwaukee American association club, was returned to the Brewers last night, having failed to show Central league class with the Athletics, although he pitched several good games. Weidel was the "bugs" performer of the Central league. His antics on the coaching lines were his own original performances, and he was nicknamed "Bugs" in every city in the league in which the team appeared while he was an Athletic.

OFFERS FOR SWARTLING.

(Zanesville Times-Recorder.)

A number of offers for Hugo Swartling have been received by the local club, but none of them was up to the price that has been set upon the player by the local management. The club will hold out for its price. The Dayton management wanted Swartling, but wouldn't offer enough, and it is said that the Fort Wayne club would also like to have the Pittsburg boy.

Claude Varnell has said a dozen times he wouldn't have Swartling on a bet.

ONE CATCHER WORKED.

Yazoo City, Miss., June 12.—One catcher was behind the bat for both teams for sixteen innings in the Cotton States league game between Columbus and Yazoo City here yesterday. In the second inning of the first game the Columbus catcher was hurt and there was no one to take his place. The Yazoo City catcher volunteered to keep the game going and it was so agreed by all in authority. Yazoo City won both games.

TOM SHARKEY IS READY TO FIGHT

Says Flynn is a Joke and That Johnson Will Win the Battle.

GETTING OFF WEIGHT

New York, June 12.—"Who'll win the Johnson-Flynn fight?" was asked of Tom Sharkey, hereditary champion of Ireland and the United States navy, in his Bowery saloon.

The question started the game old ringster off on the high speed of contempt.

"Say, don't kid yourself," growled Tom in that throaty voice of his. "That ain't goin' to be no fight. It's goin' to be a joke—a reg'lar joke, see? Why, Johnson kin lick that Flynn guy any round he wants to. If he gets sore, why, say, there won't be nothing left of Flynn.

"Who's this Flynn guy anyway? Why he's just a joke scrapper. Say, I'll lick Flynn in four rounds just as I am now, or give the money to charity. 'Mebbe Flynn's a pretty good fireman, but he's the bunk as a scrapper.

"Who'd he ever lick that a one-armed mutt couldn't put away? Nobody! An' he's goin' up again the best scrapper in the world. That's what Johnson is—the best today—and I guess he's the best that ever came down the pike.

"A lot of guys thinks Johnson's a flash in the pan, but he ain't. Because he's colored ain't no sign he can't scrap. Johnson's a machine. He's shifty, he's a good general, he's got the build, and he kin hit.

"What round will Johnson win in? Say, kid, that's up to him. If he wants to give the gang a little run for its money, mebbe he'll let the scrap go ten or twelve rounds. If he's goin' to show he ain't gone back, I guess he'll jump in an' finish Flynn in about four rounds.

"All that joke scrap will be is some wild swings by Flynn, a few jabs by Johnson an' a wallop under the chin an' then candles an' slow music for the coal-heaver."

"Any chance for a frame-up, Tom?"

"Naw! Not a chance in the world. Why, they couldn't frame it no way. Flynn can't win and Johnson can't lose."

Sharkey, by the way, is nursing the idea that he is a real white hope. For a few weeks he has been working out in his gymnasium and on the road, with daily plunges into the surf. He is a bear in the water, and enjoys a swim at a temperature that makes one shiver.

"It's a bum crop of white hopes they've got around here," he asserted pugnaciously. "All of them jokes. It's time somebody showed up who really could scrap a few—who could give that Jack Johnson a little run for the dough.

"An' if nobody shows up pretty soon, you can bet that Tom Sharkey is goin' back again for a try at the title.

"I'll scrap any guy in the world—bar none, and Jack Johnson gets first bid. Give me two months to train, show me a poise that's got some dough in it an' I'm on. Tom Sharkey always gave the people a run for their money, an' I ain't gone so far I can't 'come back.'

"I kin get down to 190, my fightin' weight, an' I'm as hard as nails. My wind's off but I kin fix that if any one waves a poise at me."

Two weeks ago Sharkey weighed 240. Today he weighs 220. He really is training as hard as either Flynn or Johnson, apparently determined to return as nearly as possible to the form he was in when he was considered the toughest nut in the fighting game.

ALBERTS IS OUT AT TERRE HAUTE

May Pitch Semi-pro Ball With One of Trolley League Teams.

WILL RETURN HOME

Frederick Cyclone Alberts has been suspended by the Terre Haute club because he can not get his pitching arm into shape and he will return to Fort Wayne in a short time to rest up.

A few days ago word was received that he had gone to Bonesetter Reese to have his arm examined and put into shape if such a thing were possible and this was followed by the announcement that Manager Aggie Grant had placed him on the suspended list.

Although he has not intimated just what he will do it is likely that he will seek engagements with the semi-pro teams in and about Fort Wayne for Saturday and Sunday games and nurse his bad arm until it fully recovers.

There are a number of teams in the T. and C. Trolley league that could use him very handily and it is possible that he will make an arrangement with one of them. His suspension will not affect any professionals playing against him as he is out because his arm is bad and is not in any trouble with the management.

Kendallville is making strong efforts to strengthen its club for the remaining games in the Trolley league. The defeat at the hands of the Waterloo Reds last Sunday indicated the importance of adding a few better ball players and this will be done.

Laird and Henline, of the Western Gas team, are with the Waterloo Reds. The Reds will play the Shamrocks at League park next Sunday, and will have in the box Tobias, former South Bend pitcher.

"Monte" Hofer and Chris Chambers will play with Delphi next Friday.

STOPPED FOR CLOTHES.

Outfielder Fluharty Returned to the Milwaukee Club.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 12.—Outfielder Fluharty, released Tot, was in the city today on his way to Milwaukee of the American association, to which team he was returned by Terre Haute. President Wagner stated that he only stopped in Terre Haute to get his clothes.

Mr. Wagner, when asked if the club had secured new outfielders, declared that it had not, and added: "I don't know what we would do with them if we had them. We do not need any outfielders."

Earl Pickering is expected to report any day and will probably be here this week. Mr. Wagner stated that that famous Minnesota athlete had been wired to come at once.

BOOSTERS READY TO BUY TICKETS

South Bend in Bad Way and Appeal to People Was Only Chance.

RESPOND WITH CASH

South Bend, Ind., June 12.—Following a big meeting last night committees from the different business organizations of the city began a campaign today for the sale of tickets enough to insure that the South Bend baseball club will be able to finish the season and the success attendant upon the first day indicates that the scheme will be successful.

A call issued to citizens generally drew a big crowd to a gathering held last night at which the stockholders explained conditions to the business men interested in the national game and in retaining the club here.

The plan is to sell 20,000 grand stand tickets, the entire receipts of which will go to the home club, and within half an hour after the plan had been broached, business men had purchased outright 3,000 personally, in lots of from 20 to 200. The campaign started will include a canvass of the city. Inclement weather had made a big hole in the coffers of the club and the campaign for attendance was necessary in order that the local association could finish the season.

New York, June 12.—The police today are trying to solve the mysterious disappearance of Dr. Louis R. Morris, a Johns Hopkins graduate, who on Monday last left his bride of four days seated in a motor car and has not been seen since. According to the bride he stepped from the machine on upper Broadway, telling her that he had an important operation to perform and for her to return to the hotel. No trace of him has been found since.

SCHOOL GIRL, 17, CAUSES ANXIETY

Miss Myrl Major Fails to Appear at School; Police Search.

MOTHER IS WORRIED

Miss Myrl Major, daughter of Mrs. Marian Major, 615 West Wayne street, and a junior in the Fort Wayne high school, did not appear for her classes today and shortly after noon the police department was asked to locate her.

She left her home for school as usual and until a newspaper reporter called Mrs. Major and informed her of the rumor that was going the rounds she thought her daughter was in school. The missing girl is seventeen and may have simply skipped school as girls sometimes do and may be home by night.

On the other hand the police were also asked to locate Sam Ormsby, a chauffeur employed at the Ormsby garage on West Main street. Rumor has connected the two names and that the couple eloped is the theory on which the police went to work on the case.

There is no reason to believe that any harm has befallen the girl and it is possible that she is taking a day off on her own account, but in any event her disappearance has sent the police in search of a clue to her whereabouts. The mother is a teacher in the city schools.

UNDERESTIMATED DAMAGE.

Fire in Cedar Creek Township Caused $2,000 Loss.

In adjusting the damage of the fire two days ago at the home of B. B. Schlatter, in Cedar Creek township, the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company finds that the damage amounts to $2,000. This is a great deal more than was given at the first estimate. Six buildings, including a barn, house, corncrib, granary, woodhouse and summer house, were destroyed, and the barn contained twenty tons of hay.

CONGRESS MAY DEADLOCK.

Washington, June 12.—A deadlock between both houses of congress over the senate's proposal to repeal the Canadian reciprocity law was foreshadowed when the senate today by a vote of 33 to 27 refused to recede from its amendment to the iron and steel tariff revision by embodying the repeal provision.

EARTH SHOCKS IN SOUTH.

Georgia and South Carolina Distinctly Feel Tremor.

Augusta, Ga., June 12.—Distinct earth schocks were felt here, at Columbia, S. C., and Savannah, Ga., at 5:30 o'clock this morning. Houses were rocked and the sleeping inhabitants were roughly awakened when their beds swayed and moved several inches. Three shocks were felt, each lasting about fifteen seconds. As far as reported no damage was done and no person was hurt.

Here the shocks were felt more distinctly on the hills about the city and in the residence section. In the business part of the city they were less perceptible. There was considerable alarm among the negroes and before the last shocks had ceased many of them were in prayer.

At Savannah the vibrations were east and west. Houses there were rocked slightly, swaying pictures and light furniture.

A peculiar feature of the quake at Columbia was that persons within doors felt the vibrations more than those in the open. Their beds were moved several inches and parlor statuary was thrown from pedestals.

Washington, June 12.—Senator Elihu Root, of New York, the Taft choice for temporary chairman of the republican national convention, had a final conference today with the president at the white house. HOW TO PRESERVE YOUTH AND BEAUTY.

One great secret of youth and beauty for the young woman or the mother is the proper understanding of her womanly system and well-being. Every woman, young or old, should know herself and her physical make up. A good way to arrive at this knowledge is to get a good doctor book, such for instance, as "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., which can readily be procured by sending thirty-one cents for cloth-bound copy, addressing Dr. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y.

The womanly system is a delicate machine which can only be compared to the intricate mechanism of a beautiful watch which will keep in good running order only with good care and the proper oiling at the right time, so that the delicate mechanism may not be worn out. Very many times young women get old or run down before their time through ignorance and the improper handling of this human mechanism. Mental depression, a confused head, backache, headache, or hot flashes and many symptoms of derangement of the womanly system can be avoided by a proper understanding of what to do, in those trying times that come to all women.

MRS. WILLIAMS.

MRS. G. H. WILLIAMS, of Lynnhaven, Va., wrote: "It is six years since my health gave way. I had female trouble and all the doctors (I employed three) said I would die. I was not able to do my work, had to hire someone all the time. Finally, I read in the papers about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and decided to try it. I had not taken but one bottle until I found it had done me good. I took in all five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and now I am able to do all my housework, and have gained fourteen pounds. I advise all women who suffer from female trouble to try your 'Favorite Prescription.' It's the only medicine on earth."

BABY GIRL STARTS WONDERFUL MOVEMENT FOR THE UTILIZATION OF WASTE BACHELORS—HOW? ASK MARY LOUISE.

MRS. DR. WYNECOOP'S BACHELOR PHILOSOPHY.

"A bachelor owes something to the world. Not only to the world, but to himself, he owes the duty of experiencing even in this small way, the cares and pleasures of fatherhood.

"Many a bachelor could support and educate a boy by doing without a few 'good times.'

"The doing of that would be of great good to the boy and the man. No man has ever come in intimate contact with a child without being a better man for it.

"I honestly believe that many a bachelor, a so-called man of the world, a club-dweller, indulger in many petty vices, would save his immortal soul by adopting a boy."

By E. C. Rodgers.

Chicago, Ill., June 12.—When Floyd Keefe, age 7, and his brother Kenneth, age 3, woke up the other morning they were poor; their playground was the alley upon which their home stood, their playmates were the children of the alley.

Then came a big automobile and carried them away.

In the morning they were children of a poor working woman; in the evening they were the wards of a multi-millionaire.

Sounds like a fairy tale, doesn't it? But it is true. It had its beginning in a speech Dr. A. Lois Lindsay Wynecoop made at the National Mothers' congress. She said that bachelors ought to adopt children to raise.

When she got back to Chicago, Dr. Wynecoop found five applicants for children. One of them was Gordon Strong, millionaire Chicago real estate man.

Dr. Wynecoop had a list of ready-to-be-adopted youngsters ready.

She knew of the Keefe boys. Their mother, Mrs. Nora Keefe, sells lace in a department store for a miserably small wage.

"I wouldn't have given my boys away for anything in the world but for their own good," Mrs. Keefe told me, between calls for a cash girl and selling lace remnants to a bargain-hunting crowd of women. "A rich man like Mr. Strong can do everything for them; I can do nothing—but give them up. They've got a chance now."

"To give the boys a chance, that is why I took them," said Gordon Strong. "My plan is to take two more boys this year, and then add one each year as long as I live. I like children, boys especially. I will send them to my home on Sugar Loaf mountain, in Maryland.

"I do not mean to adopt them legally. They will retain their own names, and their parents may see them. I shall provide for them, educate them, sending them to college when they are prepared for it, and fit them for the vocation in life they are best suited for, whether that be physician, merchant, lawyer, preacher or farmer.

"Why? Because that's the way I choose to spend my money."

While Dr. Winecoop is the originator of this "bachelors-adopt-a-baby" movement, the real credit belongs to Mary Louise.

Mary Louise is two years old. Once Mary Louise was one of those friendless little mites cast adrift in this wide world.

Dr. Wynecoop already had three little ones of her own, but she saw Mary Louise, and Mary Louise—she didn't have any name then—became sister to Dr. Wynecoop's little Catherine.

"I had long urged the adoption of babies by childless couples," Dr. Wynecoop explained, "and to speak from experience my husband and I adopted Mary Louise. She was an immense success right from the start.

"I noticed that baby girls were in greater demand than boys, possibly because the childless wife longs for the embrace of baby arms more than the husband. On the other hand I noted the large number of wealthy bachelors passing through life missing the great responsibility, and still greater honor, of parenthood. So it was that I suggested the idea of bachelors adopting children.

"I have recently arranged for several boys who have been taken by wealthy unmarried men. In every city a like movement is needed. Why, I have letters from mothers and children from New York to San Francisco begging me to find homes for little ones.

"To give those bachelors a taste of what home is by placing with them a vital element in home-making—a child—I urge this movement."

"WHY"

In every line of business there is always one store whose reputation is your protection, where the service is of real benefit to the buyer, where quality is accurately explained to the uninformed as well as to the critical judge, whose success is founded on the principle of assisting the customer to secure that which best suits his particular needs and give him the greatest satisfaction and pleasure on account of the many new considerations that enter the selection of a Piano, it is of the utmost importance that all information in regard to the instrument be absolutely reliable not only as to quality and price but to accomplish the purpose for which it is purchased and to give YOU permanent satisfaction. Most Player-Pianos produce fairly satisfactory musical results when manipulated by an expert and very few are worth hearing when played by the average owner. Why? Because tone and durability have been entirely ignored in the selection of the instrument and the unimportant and complicated levers, buttons and bellows made the chief consideration by both the manufacturer and the salesman. The Packard Interpreter gives the same artistic musical results when played by the novice as when manipulated by an expert, has absolutely no confusing mechanical devices, is not sold because it is cheap, but has tone and permanent durability and enables you to play any music exactly as interpreted by the world's greatest artists and composers.

For your own benefit we ask you to call at our store and judge the music you can produce on the Packard Interpreter with the best expert playing of the finest Player you can hear elsewhere.

TEST CASE WILL LIKELY BE MADE

Dave Randall Renews Request for Refund of Saloon License Money

NEW SIGN ORDINANCE

In event of the refusal of the city council to refund $272 representing the balance for the unexpired term of Dave Randall's saloon license it is likely that a test case will be made through the medium of a suit against the city.

Randall lost his county license a short time after he had renewed his city permit. He could not continue business and asked the return of the money, less the amount due for the time he had been in business. This was refused because he had not paid some city bills for lights and water, but these have been settled and unless the money is paid back a suit may be instituted to determine whether or not the city can retain the money. Several such cases have been presented and the councilmen have had no chance to determine just what the law is.

The amended sign ordinance providing that only electric signs shall project over the street went to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances in the city council last night, after a heated discussion, which ended in the defeat of a motion by Mr. Felger to table it. Hamilton and Rogge voted with him. There was no opposition to the candidacy of Jesse Macbeth for school trustee and he got the votes of the eleven members present.

Ordinances were passed preventing any person, aside from contractors and city employes, from feeding horses on the streets and all persons from tying them to ornamental light posts and water plugs; requiring hawkers and peddlers to place their names and the words "licensed venders," on their wagons; extending the city limits and annexing a strip of land on the south side of the Driving park from Anthony boulevard to the park entrance; changing the name of Rudisill avenue to Rudisill boulevard, and giving it into the control of the park board; appropriating $2,500 to the sewer repair fund and $60 to the insurance fund.

The mayor reported that he had approved the ordinances permitting circuses holding parades in the city to give $10,000 surety bonds; giving himself permission to sell a quantity of brass and junk; extending the city market from Main street to the Nickel Plate tracks; for the construction of a spur from the Pennsylvania railroad to the Olds coal yard, and for the elevation of the Wabash tracks at Fairfield avenue and Taylor street.

Ordinances for the elevation of the Wabash tracks at Harrison street and Thompson avenue were introduced and referred to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances, as was another for the purchase of $1,666 worth of incandescent globes for the municipal light plant from the Fort Wayne Electric works.

An ordinance to create a boulevard of Pfeiffer avenue, Centlivre avenue and State street, under the name of Pfeiffer boulevard, was sent to the committee on parks and public buildings, as was the park board request for control of Davis, Tyler and Gertrude streets, and that they be called Kekionga boulevard.

The committee on finance reported that it had audited the quarterly report of Controller Cutshall and had found it correct.

TWO KILLED AS AIRSHIP FALLS

Double Fatality Attends Test of Wright Aeroplane for Army.

CAUSE UNEXPLAINED

Washington, June 12.—Another fearful toll was taken by aviation last night when the mutilated bodies of Lieutenant Leighton W. Hazlehurst, Jr., 17th infantry, U. S. A., and Alfred L. Welch, a professional aviator in the employ of the Wright brothers, were hauled from under the debris of a collapsed aeroplane. The accident occurred while they were attempting to make the tests required by the government in a machine contracted for by the war department.

Although an army board was immediately convened to determine the cause of the accident it is probable the real cause of the machine's failure never will be known. The crash came so suddenly and unexpectedly that the two men met their death without being able to make a single move to arrest their fall. Seven army flyers were among the score of spectators but they cannot explain the accident.

It was shortly after six o'clock that the Wright machine was run out in front of the long line of hangars. For several days Aviator Welch, whose home is in this city, had been busy demonstrating the aeroplane. All of the war department's requirements had been met except a climb of 2,000 feet within ten minutes carrying a load of 450 pounds. Welch knew the machine was capable of meeting the test for it had been accomplished at Dayton, O., by Orville Wright before it was taken to College Park, and he had been made impatient by several failures.

"I'm going to make that climb tonight or know the reason why," he said as he began to tune up. "I am tired fooling," he added.

A few minutes later he announced that he was ready. Lieut. Hazlehurst followed Welch into the machine, taking the passenger's seat. The aeroplane moved off steadily and flew the length of the field, rising 200 feet. As it was turned toward the group of army officers before the hangars Welch dipped sharply to indicate to the official timer he was ready for the stiff test climb.

The dip carried the machine to within about 75 feet of the ground and it then straightened out sharply, too quickly, the observing army flyers thought. Without warning the aluminum wings crumpled or collapsed upward so that they almost met above the engine. The engine dropped, then turned her nose toward the earth and dived.

The accident occurred about 1,000 feet from the hangars and when the first witness reached the wreck it was seen that both of the men were dead. Welch was buried in the debris, but the body of Hazlehurst had been thrown fully twenty feet away after the machine struck. Welch's clothes were practically all torn from his body, which was bruised and battered. Hazlehurst's skull was fractured and his head was badly disfigured. Death to both of the men probably had been instantaneous.

Many new features were embodied in the machine, evolved as a result of Orville Wright's experiments at Kill Devil Hill, N. C., last summer. The Wright brothers built comparatively slow craft, but the government required that the new machine make 45 miles an hour. In speed trials several days ago 50.8 miles was attained. It was estimated that it was making about 45 miles an hour when the fatal plunge came. The wings of the craft were of aluminum instead of canvas, but in appearance it was much like the earlier machines.

Evansville, Ind., June 12.—The funeral of Lieut. L. W. Hazlehurst, U. S. A., who was killed on the army aviation field at Washington yesterday in an experimental flight with Alfred L. COW IN AUTOMOBILE.

Mayor Shank Has "Milk While You Wait" Plan.

Indianapolis, June 12.—Mayor Shank, who tried to reduce the cost of food by selling direct from the producer to the consumer, has suggested a solution of the fresh milk problem.

He has a scheme whereby Indianapolis folk no longer need worry about how many bridges the milkman crosses along his route, but, if they please, may see the fluid drawn fresh into the pail at their door. It was disclosed by the mayor in an address to a gathering of Jersey cattle breeders and farmers at the farm of J. R. Brickert, Johnson county.

"If you boys wanted to," said the mayor, "it would be a mighty good idea for you to rig up a place for your Jerseys in the back end of your touring cars and make a hit with the city folk by selling milk fresh from the pail from house to house. Most all of you have Jerseys and most all of you have automobiles.

"That kind of a plan strikes me as being a peach, for the city people then would be sure of getting Jersey milk—that is, they would be sure if they were real certain you had a Jersey cow in the back of your automobile."

TRACTION MEN HERE.

He will come up from the Panhandle lines on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road at 4:40 o'clock and will leave over the Fort Wayne for the east at 5 o'clock. WILL BE THE BEST OF ALL.

Coming Firemen's Tournament at Dunkirk, Indiana.

The newspapers in the cities wherein are located the volunteer fire companies that will participate in the annual tournament at Dunkirk, Ind., of the Northeastern Indiana Volunteer Firemen's association on Thursday, June 27, are unanimous in the belief that this will be the best meeting the firemen have held. The prizes are larger and more numerous and the attendance promises to be double that of any previous tournament. The exercises will commence at 7 o'clock in the morning and will continue without a break until dark, the last number being the competitive band concert. The address of welcome by City Attorney George T. Whitaker will be made at 10 o'clock, followed immediately by a responsive address by President F. G. Duryee, of the Firemen's association. The parade will start at 1:15 o'clock and will be followed by a water battle, hose laying contest, a race with fire apparatus, an afternoon band contest and some other features usually a part of such tournaments. The volunteer fire company from the Fort Wayne Electric works will take part in the tournament and the Electro-Technic band will participate in the band contests. To defray the expenses of the local firemen to and from Dunkirk, an ice cream social will be given in Swinney park and the program for this event is now being formulated.

SETTING UP ENGINES.

Baldwin Company Sends Erecting Engineer Here.

F. A. Neely, an erecting engineer in the employ of the Baldwin Locomotive works, arrived in the city this morning and immediately took up the work of setting up and making ready for service the locomotives built by that company for the Wabash, which are now being delivered. The order calls for six Pacific type of passenger engines, four of which are now here and the remaining two are on the road, and twenty-eight freight engines of the Mikado type. Six of these freight engines have also left the Baldwin works and are due here the latter part of this week. Mr. Neely will be here four or five weeks.

HIRING ALL THAT APPLY.

There is no occasion for an able bodied man to be out of employment in Fort Wayne. The Wabash is hiring all applicants who have the appearance of industry and ability to work and one of the officials said this morning that the company needs thirty good, husky fellows at the shop yards, to handle material that is being loaded and unloaded there. Men are also needed for road work and good men are being given employment in the shops. This morning ten helpers were employed. They were John Nickrez, Joseph Walsh, Ed Herr, John McClellan, Fred Waller, J. E. Hart, Carl G. Meinger, John Roche, O. Waller and Noble T. Micks.

OWL SMASHES CAB WINDOW.

Engineer C. H. Piatt, who was at the throttle of the engine which struck and killed George Pitt four miles east of Fort Wayne yesterday morning, was startled a few miles east of the state line by something crashing through the cab window and whizzing past him. Investigation, when the train reached Fort Wayne, revealed the presence in the tender of an owl. The bird was struck by the engine and was killed when it hit the cab window. The carcass is now in the hands of a taxidemist being mounted and will be a part of the decorations of Mr. Piatt's home.

STOREKEEPERS IN SESSION.

The seven division storekeepers of the Pennsylvania Northwest system are holding a two days' meeting in the city this week. The meetings are being held in the committee rooms back of the planing mills, and are presided over by C. P. Cherry, storekeeper of the Western division. Division storekeepers present from out of the city are Paul Zimmerman, of Chicago; C. A. Jackson, of Allegheny; B. Shipley, of Wellsville; W. T. Weschler, of Mahoningtown; C. W. Soule, of Crestline, and C. E. Blessing, of Cleveland.

DAVID WATTERSON BETTER.

Conductor David Watterson, of the Nickel Plate, who was operated upon at St. Joseph hospital Monday for the removal of gall stones, is slowly recovering from the shock and his surgeon believes he will get well. W. F. Watterson, superintendent of the Buffalo division of the Nickel Plate, a brother of the sick man, has been here two or three days on account of the operation, but will return home today if his brother continues to improve.

SAY IT WILL BE PARRISH.

The rumor comes from the east that Mr. Parrish a train dispatcher at Conneaut, Ohio, will succeed G. C. Todd as superintendent of the telegraph on the Nickel Plate June 15, when the changes announced by the Sentinel a few days ago become effective. Mr. Parrish is said to be hard working, very capable and an ambitious employe. He was mayor of Conneaut two or three years, being elected mainly through the efforts of his railway friends.

HIT WITH A MALLET.

J. A. Dahman, a rivet heater in the Pennsylvania boiler shop, received the full force of a blow on the forehead yesterday afternoon from a rivet maul in the hands of a comrade. He was knocked down and the flesh over one of his eyes was badly cut and bruised. He was attended by the company's surgeon and will be unable to work for several days.

GONE TO VISIS OLD FRIENDS.

Fireman S. G. Parr, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, has obtained a three weeks' leave of absence, which he will spend with relatives and friends in Norfolk, Va., where he was born and educated. Mr. Parr was married at Roanoke yesterday and his bride will accompany him on the journey.

GONE TO INSTALL GAS PLANT.

Clarence Olds left this morning for a town in Michigan, where he will be engaged for several weeks installing apparatus for a gas plant, of which the Western Gas Construction company is the contractor. Mr. Olds was married a week ago and his bride accompanied him and will remain with him during the time he is engaged in the work of installation.

ADAM HOUCK RECOVERING.

Adam Houck, the patternmaker, who received an ugly gash in the top of his head when he was struck by a fragment of an exploding machine Monday, is rapidly recovering and will soon be back at work. He is now in the Lutheran hospital.

IN HOSPITAL FOR OPERATION.

Mandus E. Warner, of 2007 Gay street, the well known turner at the factory of Louis Rastetter & Sons, went to the Lutheran hospital last evening for treatment for stomach trouble. It may be necessary to perform a surgical operation upon him.

EYE CUT BY STEEL CHIP.

Henry Rohrbock, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, will be off duty a few days as the result of injuries sustained this morning. While using a hammer and chisel, a chipping of steel flew up and lodged in the ball of one of his eyes.

STILL UNCONSCIOUS.

Passenger Engineer Joseph Leeper, of the Pennsylvania who was stricken with paralysis while at the throttle over a week ago, continues unconscious and at no time since the attack has there been noticeable improvement. Mr. Leeper is at St. Joseph hospital.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

R. Neireiter, of the Pennsylvania erecting shops, expects to spend next Sunday with friends in Chicago.

Engineer W. H. Stellhorn, of the Nickel Plate, is out after a most serious attack of quinsy.

Ed Feaser, L. Garidot, C. W. Rodenbeck and J. L. Barry, Pennsylvania shopmen, are sick and off duty.

Joseph Rasyn and Walter Dawks took employment at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

Joseph Hilleke, a packer at the Fort Wayne Electric works, is sick and off duty.

Old Fort council, 193, Royal League will have work in the initiatory degree this evening.

T. H. Irvin, Nickel Plate operator, was sent to New Haven yesterday to relieve the third trick operator at that point for a few days.

Engineer J. B. Maurer, who owns a cottage at Lake James, was to that place for a week's outing and to make some improvements on the property.

General Foreman E. E. Dildine, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, is in Lima, Ohio, today on business connected with the Lima Locomotive company.

George A. Lash who had an eye injured some days ago, resumed work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

Delbert Vardeman, engineer on the Nickel Plate coal dock derrick is taking a lay off to look after some private affairs. Denis O'Connell, a round house employe, is off duty on account of the serious illness of his wife.

Charges of violating the sixteen-hour work law are pending against the B. & O., the G. R. & I and the P., F. W. & C. roads. In the order named judgments are asked for $15,500, $5,500 and $2,500.

E. J. Seely, foreman of the boiler department of the Bass works, will go to Milwaukee Saturday to attend the commencement exercises of the Downer college. His daughter, Miss Frances Seely, will graduate in domestic science from that institution.

Fred J. Rump, the contractor, has been awarded the contract to build a 10x100 foot loading platform at the Fort Wayne Electric works. The facilities for handling the increased business at the shipping department are inadequate.

John R. Conick, who resigned as motive power inspector for the Pennsylvania June 1, has engaged in the real estate and insurance business with his brother in Chicago. The latter opened an office in Chicago some time ago and is said to be getting a good deal of business.

F. A. Szink, of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, is suffering from inflammation of the eyes as a result of watching an electric welding process without properly protecting his eyes with colored glasses. The light was too bright for the optics and caused the inflammation.

The announcement is made that the facilities of the Lima Locomotive works are to be doubled during the summer. The company was recently reorganized with a much greater capital stock with this object in view. When the improvements contemplated are made the works will have an output facility of 1,000 locomotives a year.

The business of the roads last Sunday demonstrated the fact that to get a big resort business cheap rates are necessary. The G. R. & I. took only fifty-two people to Rome City Saturday and Sunday, whereas the preceding Sunday, when the fifty cent rate was in effect, over 1,100 people went to that lake. The Sandusky Star-Journal, speaking of the business to that city and Cedar Point last Sunday, says: "If the first Sunday's business is any criterion, the railroad companies will not find the running of Sunday trains at regular rates a very profitable business. Two roads, the B. & O. and the Pennsylvania, put on regular trains Sunday for the opening of the resort season, but allowed no excursion rates. Neither of the trains brought many people here."

Attorney H. L. Somers has returned from Saginaw, Mich., where he spent a few days looking after business.

Mr. and Mrs. David Eckart, who accompanied the local shriners to Los Angeles, arrived home Tuesday night from the west, where they spent several weeks.

Pennsylvania Car Shop Force in 1883, Twenty-Nine Years Ago

The above picture, which contains thirty-five faces and is probably the oldest picture of Pennsylvania shop employes in existence, was taken in 1883, twenty-nine years ago. Of the thirty-five men represented, only seven are now employed at the shops. The personnel of the group, reading from left to right and beginning with the lower row is as follows: Henry Toenges, ———, ———, Nicholas Hurdry, Daniel Stein, C. Waldo, Fred Grimme, A. Hoover, Fred Jasper, John Keintz, J. H. Lindeman, M. Nessel, L. Schmidt, W. Crowe, W. Boese, ———, M. Ryan, J. Scott, W. Sudebrink, T. Stein, ———, S. Mattenger, H. Harkenrider, C. Doerman, M. Reinhart, G. Poehl, F. Renek e, A. Fox, C. McNear, C. Fritze, C. Scherer, D. Meyer, J. Hartman, J. J. Lee, G. Schwartz, E. Driftmeyer and H. Klenke. Those still in the shops are Henry Tonges, Fred Jasper, L. Schmidt, W. Sudebrink, C. Meyers, J. J. Lee and H. Klenke. Of the others so far as known Fred Grimme has been pensioned; H. Harkenrider is on the city police force; C. Dochrman is selling furniture, A. Fox is living in Grand Rapids and J. Horstman is in the grocery business and fifteen have died since the picture was taken. The dashes represent men who could not be identified.

INDIANA CASE ROILS COLONEL

Roosevelt's Ire Up at Decision in Thirteenth District.

USES HIS TRUSTY PEN

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 12.—With an attack on his opponents in the republican national committee and on President Taft, Col. Roosevelt last night again protested against the course of affairs at Chicago. In a statement issued at Sagamore Hill he said Mr. Taft assumed "that the presidency is to be treated as a gift within the bestowal of the politicians in defiance of the duly expressed wish of the people."

"Such conduct," Colonel Roosevelt write, "comes dangerously near being treason to the whole spirit of our institutions, to the whole spirit of democratic free government."

The former president laid especial stress upon the action of the committee in seating the Taft delegates from the thirteenth district of Indiana, notwithstanding the fact, he said, that the Rosevelt men were clearly in the majority in the convention, which was called to elect these two delegates.

Col. Roosevelt's Statement.

Colonel Roosevelt's statement was in part:

"How do these bosses hope to nominate Mr. Taft? What they did in the Thirteenth Indiana district yesterday supplies the answer. I have said—and the acts of my supporters have made good my words—that I do not wish one delegate seated for me if there is a reasonable doubt in his case. The members of the national committee who are my supporters have leaned backward in every case where there was so much as a color of claim that the question was in doubt. They have decided only where the case was so clear that no honest man could doubt.

Thirteenth Indiana.

"In the Thirteenth Indiana district the convention which assembled to elect two delegates to Chicago contained a clear and uncontested majority of Roosevelt men. But the chairman, a Taft man, refused a roll call and declared the Taft delegates elected on viva voca vote, whereupon the majority of the convention elected two Roosevelt delegates. Affidavits of all members of the majority were laid before the committee, showing that a clear majority of the members of the convention by their own sworn statement had voted for Roosevelt and three other affidavits of members were submitted showing that these three men had voted neither for Roosevelt nor Taft; so that the proof was absolute that the Taft delegates had obtained only a minority of the convention. Yet the national committee seated the two men the fraudulency of whose claims had been thus shown.

Smaller Men to Prison.

"Unfortunately there is no law to touch the astounding misconduct of which the national committee has been guilty and which it has sanctioned in the cases which have come before it. If the contest was one for the nomination of an alderman in New York city and obscure men in the democratic and republican parties who were acting as election officials in a given district were guilty of such conduct and their guilt was proved, they would be sent to the penitentiary.

"But the great and powerful politicians, the representatives of bossism in politics and special privilege business who are now perpetrating the same kind of wrong on an indefinitely larger scale, are immune because as yet, unfortunately, the law does not touch nominating conventions."

Horse races, band music, Driving park Saturday afternoon, June 15. Admission 25c. Ladies free. Grand stand and bleachers free. Fort Wayne Amateur Driving Club.

VETO TO SAVE COMMERCE COURT

President Taft Regards Tribunal as Very Essential.

MESSAGE IS COMING

Washington, June 12.—President Taft told friends today that he would veto the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill if, when it comes for his signature, it abolishes the commerce court in effect by cutting off the court's appropriation. Both the house and the senate have eliminated provision for the court from the measure.

President Taft told callers today that he considered the court necessary to prompt and effective enforcement of the inter-state commence act. In speeches he has said that when its limitations were defined by the supreme court the new tribunal would be approved by the railroads and the people. The supreme court this week gave several decisions greatly restricting the powers of the commerce court and reversing its action in several important cases where it disagreed with the inter-state commerce commission.

Recess For Conventions.

The senate agreed today to a program of three days' recess from June 17 to July 1, covering the period of the republican and democratic national conventions.

The house will recess for three days during the democratic national convention only and will continue in session during the rest of the national convention period on a "gentlemen's" understanding that no partisan legislation will be pressed. This statement was made today by Representative Underwood, democratic leader of the house.

Refuses to Reconsider.

The senate today 29 to 28 refused to reconsider carrying amendments which would legislate Major General Wood out of his office as chief of staff of the army.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage, a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair.

NO MORE GRAY HAIRS

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of seventy-five, while our mothers have white hair before they are fifty. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to the hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy and gradually resored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days, on account of souring quickly. This objection has been overcome, and by asking almost any first-class druggist for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair, but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow.

Get a bottle from your druggist today. Use it and see for yourself how quickly dandruff goes and gray hairs vanish.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

By Alfred Segal.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 12.—The lettuce in the backyard of 431 North Eighth street, "Terry Hutt" is comin' up right smart, and the lima beans are sprouting, to say nothing of radishes.

And the morning glories have begun their climb up the front porch, and the moon flowers are only a lap behind.

And one of the two peach trees that 'Gene Debs brought from Girard, Kan., and planted in the backyard at 451 North Eighth street, is giving certain signs that it's going to be a regular peach tree some day; while the other one is performing ably in the back yard of 'Gene's washerwoman, Clara.

You may have guessed from these few remarks that 451 North Eighth street, Terre Haute, is where Eugene V. Debs, socialist candidate for president of the nited States lives. It is.

And, by George, for the life of me I can't see why 'Gene is thinking of moving to the white house when there is so much more fun here, sitting on the front porch and watching those glorious Hoosier sunsets, or talking to the neighbors' children and giving them candy, or chopping kindling wood in the backyard, or seeing the lettuce grow, or listening to Caruso sing "Annie Laurie" on the Debs phonograph.

And, 'Gene, 'Gene, think of the little boys of Terre Haute, for whom you have been buying soda water summer after summer—what would they say?

Move to the white house?.

'Gene must stay in Terre Haute. He is the Lord Bountiful of its little children, and the best loved man of the town.

You don't haveto see 'Gene to find out what sort of person he is. You find the spirit of him everywhere—and the essence of 'Gene's spirit is love. Even the old-line politicians love 'Gene.

'Gene's home is a frame house completely surrounded by capitalists. And any nice day that 'Gene's in town the candidate may be found chinning with the capitalistic class over the back fence, or noting how the radishes of his neighbor, Stahl, the wealthy over-all manufacturer, are coming along.

Let's meet 'Gene's wife. She's a stately, white-haired woman of about 50, who does all her house work herself, except when the presidential candidate helps wash the dishes, or cooks a steak a la Francaise, at which art 'Gene's a pastmaster, or helps her put up the jelly preserves, or goes down into the cellar of a winter's night to stoke the furnace.

There may be a few and obscure heroes mentioned in history, but there's only one as far as the mistress of 451 North Eighth street is concerned. His initials are E. V. D.

Everything that's 'Gene's is sacrosanct. And why not, when their holiness is the holiness of complete love that abides in the North Eighth street household. She shows you his pipes—the very pipes that 'Gene smokes when he is home and the old, old meerschaum that his father smoked and smoked for many years until it acquired a rich brown like Rookwood pottery, and that's the pipe that 'Gene tenderly takes from his treasure chest and smokes only once a year—his father's birthday.

EUGENE V. DEBS, MRS. D EBS AND THE DEBS DOG.

And then, next to that in sacred value is an old tin candle-stick that held the candle that lighted up at Harper's Ferry, the last few hours of the life of John Brown of Ossawatomie, and it's been a sort of a torch of freedom to 'Gene for many years, for John Brown is 'Gene's favorite hero.

Now, let's go down into the cellar.

Mrs. Debs wishes that it be noted in what orderly array 'Gene has stacked up his kindling wood. Order is 'Gene's passion, she says. Why, he even insists on having his pants pressed to the proper point of sharpness.

A step from the presidential candidate's personally chopped kindling pile are the jelly jars he helped put up and label.

And what will become of all of 'Gene's jelly if 'Gene moves to the white house?

And Mrs. Debs doesn't want to move to the white house anyhow because the house at 451 North Eighth street has just been papered.

Nobody at Terre Haute wants 'Gene to move because 'Gene has been one of the town's principal assets.

I almost forgot to mention Oscar Baur and Buster. Oscar is 'Gene's 13-year-old nephew, who lives with him, and Buster is 'Gene's and Oscar's co-dog.

NATION IS FULL OF DEGENERATES

Increase in Feeble Minded Population Due to Alcohol

SAYS GREAT DOCTOR

Atlantic City, June 12.—"A wave of degeneracy is sweeping the land, and its development threatens the physical vitality of the nation," declared Dr. T. Alexander MacNicholl of New York, former surgeon of the New York Red Cross hospital, who was sent abroad by President Roosevelt to investigate the subject of alcoholism and narcotics.

"Within a period of fifty years the population of the United States increased 330 per cent, while the number of insane and feeble-minded increased 950 per cent, according to the recent census, practically all of which is due to the chronic and excessive use of alcohol in one form or another, and narcotics," he said.

"Degeneracy is shown in the lessened fertility of the nation. In five years the birth rate in the United States fell off thirty-three and one-third per cent." Back of all the causes for this harming condition asserted the surgeon, who was addressing the American Medical society, the study of alcohol and narcotics show that alcohol is the chief degenerative factor.

Threatens Republic.

"A degeneracy so appalling in magnitude," Dr. MacNicholl continued, "that it staggers the mind and threatens to destroy this republic, numbering more victims than have been slain in all the wars and in all the epidemics of acute diseases that have swept the country within two hundred years.

"During the past five years the birth rate in the United States has fallen off thirty-three and one-third per cent. This means the loss of a million babies a year. Let this degeneracy continue at the same rate for one hundred years and there will not be a native born child five years old in the United States.

"What is the cause of this degeneracy? A hundred different intermediate agencies may contribute to the undoing of the race, but back of them all stands alcohol as the chief degenerative factor.' Statistics compiled by the leading insurance companies, and presented by Sir T. W. Whitaker in a report to the British parliament, show that out of every 1,000 deaths among the population at large, 440 are due to alcohol. This would mean a mortality from alcohol in the United States of 680,000 a year.

Drinkers' Children Bear Burden.

"The great burden of drink is not borne by the drinker, but by the drinkers' children. The germ cell that it is to be evolved into another being is the most highly organized of all the cells in the body. In its protoplasm lies the material and pattern of the perfected organism.

"Should such poison as alcohol lessen the nutrition of the cell or impair the quality of the protoplasmic material and deface the pattern, these shortcomings and defects would be sufficient in the subsequent stages of development. A defective germ cell cannot evolve a normal body; this is the reason that we find a large percentage of functional and organic diseases among the children of drinking parents.

"In our studies among school children in New York city we find that 62 per centum are the children of drinking parents, and that 91 per centum of these children of drinking parents suffer from some functional or organic disease. In one institution for the treatment of physical deceitves a recent study shows that every patient is the child of drinking parents.

"Our studies of school children show that one in every three is mentally deficient. If this percentage holds good over the entire country there are 7,000,000 of children of a school age that are mentally deficient, and less than 67,000 of these are from hereditary alcohol taint.

"Three out of five school children are afflicted with some functional or organic disease. If this percentage holds good, there are 15,000,000 of children of a school age that are afflicted with functional and organic diseases, and less than two and a half million of these are free from hereditary alcohol taint. A nation half diseased and half well cannot live, but here we show three-fifths of the rising generation mentally and physically diseased."

First off, they'll answer, "Never!" But they're wrong. If they don't believe it, they can ask Col. Harry S. New.

You can smoke a pipe; you will smoke a pipe

if you'll just follow the lead of an army of men who tried out Prince Albert and found it good and true.

Do you realize that the greatest Americans are pipe smokers; that they know the comfort, the satisfaction, the real joy that comes right out of a pipe? Will you get this pipe question off your mind—now!

Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, one of the world's greatest sea fighters, enjoyed a pipe immensely.

You go to

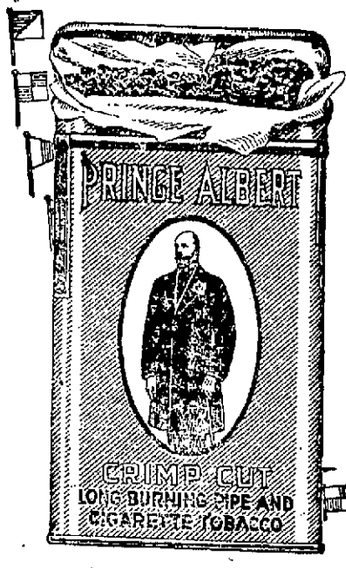
national joy smoke"

If you have an old jimmy pipe hidden away somewhere, get it out; if you haven't, buy one, quick, and fire up a load of "P. A." Get the personal experience; know yourself that Prince Albert will not bite your tongue, because it can't! The sting is removed by a patented process!



For the boys who roll 'em themselves, "P. A." is a revelation, an education! You never got such flavor, such freshness and sweetness in a cigarette in all your born days! Does that listen to you?

Buy "P. A." anywhere—afloat or ashore—in 10c tins or 5c bags, or in pound and half-pound humidors. Buy it while you're pipe-hungry or cigarette hungry. It's just great rolled up with "P. A." makin's!

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., June 12.—Reports of fast approaching exhaustion of supplies in France had a tendency today to harden the wheat market here. September started at 1.05 to 1.05¼, touched $1.04⅞@1.05, and then rose to 1.05⅝.
Cool weather made corn firm. July opened at 73¾c to 73¾c, and ascended to 73¾c.
Heavy rains in South Dakota and assertions that crop damage in Kansas had been grossly exaggerated, brought about a temporary setback. The close, nevertheless, was firm at $1.05⅝@1.05¾ for July, a net advance of ½@⅝c.
In the oats crowd, covering by shorts turned the market upward. July started at 49¾c to 50c, but quickly mounted to 50⅝c.
A prospect of falling off in receipts after this week led to a further gain. The close was firm, ⅝@⅞c net higher, at 74¼@74⅝c.
A larger run of hogs at western points eased provisions. Initial sales with September delivery were 19.10 for pork, 11.10 to $11.12½ for lard and $10.65 for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, June 12.—Dullness and irregularity were the dominant features of the opening stock market. Gains and losses were fractional except in a few unimportant instances.
Prices of leading stocks rose and fell within the most circumscribed limits during today's session on the exchange. Such sentiment as found expression was rather bearish, the activities of the money trust committee and other unfavorable factors leaving the constructive side with little ammunition. Crop uncertainty also entered into the situation. Bonds were irregular.
The market closed steady. Complete stagnation overtook the market in the last hour with price changes save in Colorado Fuel, which lost all its advance.

DIES ON MOTHER'S GRAVE.

Chicago Brewer Commits Suicide in Cemetery.

Chicago, June 12.—Otto L. Tossetti, vice president of the Tossetti Brewing company, committed suicide today on his mother's grave in Oakwood cemetery.
Mr. Tossetti was 39 years old and unmarried. A bullet penetrated his brain and caused instant death. Grief over the recent death of a relative is believed to have been the cause of the act.

THE COURTS.

Employed Boy of Ten.

Suit has been instituted in the superior court by George Kallenbach, on behalf of his son, Harold Kallenbach, alleging that he is ten years old, that he was employed by Emmett, Allen, Joseph and Eugene Martin in their plumbing shop and was injured so badly that he wants them to pay him $5,000.
The legal limit set by the state upon child employes is fourteen years. This lad says in his complaint that he was employed to drive a delivery wagon and attend a horse and to work in the office and shops when he was not attending to these duties. He was instructed to remove some heaters an din doing it slipped and his left hand struck between the cogs of a machine and two fingers were crushed off. Phil B. Colerick filed the suit.

Failed to Provide.

Dorothy Anspaugh charges in her divorce suit against Jesse Anspaugh that he failed for two years to provide for her and their child. Colerick and Hogan represent her.

Attention to Another Woman.

In her divorce suit against John Byers, Elnor Byers says he began in 1908 to pay attention to a Mrs. Henning and that since that time he has not supported her and their daughter. He works for the city park board and his wages were tied up by injunction A. E. Houk filed the suit.

MARSHALL IN A PLEA FOR HOME

Boys' Club Good Insofar as It Supplies Home Influence.

TALKS AT CLEVELAND

Cleveland, O., June 12.—"No man who cannot give to society something of what he has taken from it has a right to be called a citizen," said Governor Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, one of the speakers at the opening of the general conference of Federated Boys' clubs here last night.

"That," said the governor, "is why I felt the necessity of helping the poor boys of my city." In talk on boys' clubs, Governor Marshall said that he was neither a progressive nor a stand-patter, but a retrogressive.

Believes in Old Standard.

"I believe," said the governor, "in the standards we used to have. The reason the boys' clubs are such a success is because, in working them out, we stumble blindly upon the greatest thing in the world, the home. The atmosphere of home is given the boys in these clubs.

"The juvenile courts do not deserve the credit they have gained. They have never diminishd juvenile crime anywhere. A parental court is what is needed.

"I don't believe in law made reforms. You can't legislate a man good. I let my wife deside the suffrage stand of the family. She is litterly opposed to it. If women really want to do good in this world, here is the way for them to do it:—never buy a hat that costs more than forty dollars, nor a hat that costs more than ten dollars."

Governor Defines Home.

"The home," said the governor, "if a proper one, is the place for the boy. There, he can obtain mental and moral education, observe ideals and develop ideas. It rarely happens that a boy in a home deliberately goes wrong.

"It is perhaps necessary, however, that I should define a home. The grade of its material surroundings, if cleanly, counts but little. If it is a place where the father returns to eat and drink and sleep and swear, it is not a home, no difference what other advantages it may possess. If the mother is anxious to get rid of the duties and responsibilities of motherhood, and stays only because of necessity and seeks every opportunity to shift her children on to the Sunday school or the day school or the neighbors, and is more interested in the big chappies who watch her along the avenue than in the little chap who calls her mother, then, the place she rules is not a home.

Cannot Dodge Duty.

"A paternalism which removes responsibility from the home and which lessens the zeal of the church is distinctly inimical to the best interests of a people. We face the condition. We can not let men go wrong because the home is not doing its duty. We can not let people suffer because the church has not seized its opportunity.

"As the executive of my state, I am constantly approached by mothers seeking clemency for sons with the heart-breaking cry that they do not know what they have done that God should punish them so, and I have not yet had the courage to add to the burden of a broken-hearted mother by telling her the truth, namely, that she is not being punished for what she did, but that she is being punished for what she did not do.

"It was, I think, the theory of those who inaugurated the Boys' Club movement in America that much as they regretted interfering with family relations, they deemed it wise to begin interference before the state took a hand, thereby rendering it improbable that the state would ever be called upon to redress grieviences, punish wrongs and take the doubtful chance of mending a broken character."

To accommodate the demand for the Brady War Pictures, the Sentinel office will be open each evening until 9 o'clock. Now on sale. Price ten cents. 6-5-tf

BODY IS RECOVERED

Attempting to swim across the St. Joe river near the mouth of Cedar Creek, Benjamin F. Devaux, aged 23 years, a son of Mrs. Henry Everett, of Maysville, was seized with cramps and drowned Tuesday afternoon before those who heard his cries for help could reach him. About two hours later his body was recovered from the stream by parties living near the scene of the drowning.

Oscar Springer, who was bathing in the river, and another companion, John Walhold, were unable to render any assistance because neither could swim. Both made fruitless efforts to attract the attention of workmen in a nearby field, who arrived shortly after the body had disappeared beneath the water. Local authorities were notified of the accident, and Coroner Edward H. Kruse, Sheriff Reichelderfer and Deputy Schoenfeld went immediately to the scene. Dr. Kruse started his investigation this afternoon.

The young man, who was an apprentice mason, with Springer, went fishing early yesterday afternoon. After visiting a number of places along the river without catching any fish, Devaux suggested that they go in swimming. Springer stated that he could not swim, but would wade along the shore. Devaux stated that he could swim across the river and plunged toward the center of the stream, but immediately went beneath the water. He came to the surface a few times and called wildly for aid and was apparently suffering from cramps.

The boy's mother was overcome with grief when informed that her son had been drowned, and for a time was in a critical condition.

TRICKS HIS WAY INTO JAIL.

Man Uses Subterfuge to Gain Sentence for Old Crime He Hides.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 12.—Well dressed, with considerable money, a man who says his name is Leonard Scheffer-ling, asked to be sent to the house of correction on a charge of vagrancy. His wish was granted. "I want to serve this sentence to ease my conscience," he told the court. "Years ago I did something—no matter what—and it has bothered me ever since that time. I feel that I should pay the penalty, and I have suffered for years. I did not know what to do. If I confessed in my home town and was sent to jail I would be ruined for life. Yet my conscience would not let me rest. So I finally decided to so arrange my business as to be absent several months, and have myself arrested and locked in a prison cell. Maybe now my conscience will let me rest."

Negligee, Tea Gowns, Kimonos, Matinees, Muslin Underwear, and Corsets

Nowadays milady considers her time too valuable to pass it at the machine or with her needle in hand, when she can buy the garments listed here ready to wear, showing much more style than home making can possibly give, and, what is more, bought for a "song."

We have just received a shipment of Negligees, Kimonos, and White Wear, that will appeal at once to every woman of taste and particularly to the woman who seeks to buy the best there is economically.

Economy in buying will have full sway at our store this week—in the goods named in this announcement.

No prices given here, but some of the garments are displayed in our windows and on forms in the department.

Flexible Corseting is the fashion. No stiff, hard lines, but yielding, and no appearance of the corset.

We are showing this week several new styles in Warner's Models that have the extremely low bust with the long corset skirts.

We guarantee Warner's Corsets not to break, rust or tear. If there is anything wrong with a Warner's corset we will take it back and give you a new pair.
